

BONUS BILL SENT TO PRESIDENT

House Majority Favors Two Year Extension Of NRA

SENATE AND HOUSE HELD IN DEADLOCK

Opposition To Long Extension In Senate Said To Be Adamant

(Copyright, 1935, by United Press)
WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—A poll of the house ways and means committee, considering the extension of the bonus bill, today showed a two-year extension in favor of a majority of the house membership.

Democratic leaders also claimed a majority of the house membership favors two-year extension, as asked by President Roosevelt and in contrast with the senate's stand for only nine months from June 15.

This vital difference increased the possibility of a deadlock between the house and senate, such as caused a long delay of this $1,380,000,000 work-relief bill. Opposition to two-year extension was adamant in the senate.

NRA officials who conferred with Democratic members of the house and means committee in a secret three-hour conference last night were understood to have emphasized something definitely must be done to insure continued code control.

Indications were the house bill would carry complete clarification of the controversial interstate commerce code provisions. The committee, it was understood, would draft a "real" NRA extension.

The house bill likely will carry the same provisions as the senate measure, passed Tuesday, so far as price fixing is concerned—namely, effective only on natural resource industries.

In contrast with the house committee stand there were open threats of a senate filibuster in opposition to a two-year extension.

STATE HOME LOAN AUTHORITY PLANNED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 16.—(UP)—Financing of homes for California citizens by means of a $200,000,000 bond issue similar to the plan used to aid war veterans was before the assembly today with the approval of the governmental efficiency and economy committee.

Authorizing creation of a California home loan authority, the bill would provide for loans at an interest rate not to exceed 6 per cent a year over a period of 20 years. Loans would be restricted to citizens with a residence of three years in the state.

A bill which would enable the state to cooperate with the federal government in placing the unemployed on farms also was approved, by the committee.

CHAIN STORES TAX BILL IS DEFEATED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 16.—(UP)—A proposal to levy taxes on chain stores of every description was blocked today by action of the senate revenue and taxation committee in refusing to approve the measure.

The bill, which rolled through the assembly, would tax chain stores from $1 for the first unit to $500 for the 10th and each over 10. A motion in the senate committee to send it to the upper house floor with a "do pass" recommendation failed by a vote of 7 to 5.

Members opposing the bill were Senators Edwards, Hays, Hulise, Knowland, Rich, Sharkey and Stow. Senators Duval, Garrison, Slater, Snyder and Young voted for it.

An attempt will be made to withdraw the bill from committee. If that fails, the bill will die unless the committee reverses its action.

LATE FLASHES
WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—President Roosevelt's advisory committee on allotments today started actual distribution of the New Deal's $4,000,000,000 work-relief fund.

300,000 On Relief Roll Are Dropped

Roosevelt Summons Advisers To White House To Confer On Plans

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—Works Progress Division Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today opened the way to start the New Deal's $4,000,000,000 re-employment drive as President Roosevelt promised immediate distribution of the money.

As the chief executive summoned his advisory committee on allotments to the White House to start dividing the $4,000,000,000 grade crossing elimination and highway construction money and making allocations for non-federal projects, Hopkins announced:

1. That relief rolls declined approximately 300,000 persons between March and April, aiding the government in its drive to end direct relief by employment of 7,000,000 needy.

2. That he was completing state organizations of his work progress division to accept grant project applications.

3. That works progress division projects would not compete with private industry.

4. That he is considering a plan to deal directly with five or six cities where the unemployment problem is larger than the need for the rest of the state.

"With that much done," Hopkins said, "we are setting up an organization to deal with projects in a simple and straight forward way."

The next problem, he said, is to determine what wages will be paid to needy taken off relief rolls and placed on government payrolls.

"We expect to have that done in a very short time," he said. "Right now, we have decided on no policy and have not submitted any proposal to President Roosevelt for his approval."

"There have been some cockeyed stories that the government will pay 30 per cent less than prevailing wages, but don't let them fool you."

30 HOUR WEEK BILL IS GIVEN APPROVAL

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—(UP)—Labor measures began a march through the legislature today after the assembly had acted favorably on three bills designated to aid employees.

Outstanding among them was a measure providing for a six-hour, five-day week provided legislation along that line is passed by congress. It would apply to all employees with the exception of those governed by codes of fair competition, agricultural workers, domestics and certain railroad workers.

The lower house also passed an "anti-spotter" bill which would prohibit employees from being discharged on the basis of reports made by a "spotter" without first being faced by the accuser and given an opportunity to defend himself.

A third bill would limit fees charged by employment agencies to seven per cent of the first month's wages for manual workers and 10 per cent for "white collar" workers.

MORE THAN SEVEN MILLIONS LOANED TO HOME OWNERS IN ORANGE COUNTY, FIGURE SHOW

LOANS amounting to $7,075,092.06 have been made in Orange County by the Home Owners Loan corporation and the Federal Land Bank since the inception of the programs, it was learned today.

Figures obtained today from the Reliance Office, Security-Tile Insurance and Guarantee company, showed that Orange county ranchers and home owners to date have received more than seven million dollars in loans.

Federal lending on real estate security in Orange county appears to have definitely reached its peak, and it is doubtful if 1935 will experience more than a fractional amount of the government financing of 1934, according to Albert Harvey, of the title company.

Home owners' loans for March were 24 in number with a value

PRINTERS OF CITY CHARGE PRICES CUT

Organization To Carry Its Protest Before Board Of Education

A RIGID investigation of the asserted commercial printing activities of the Santa Ana high school and junior college printing department, known as the Fine Arts Press, will be demanded of the Santa Ana board of education by the Orange County Commercial Printers' association, it was learned today.

Local printers will ask the investigation for the purpose of bringing about ways and means of stopping the print shop from taking outside printing which naturally would go to local printers, according to A. G. Flagg, president of the commercial printers.

Flagg stated today that local printers had been investigating the reports for some time that outside work was being done in the shop, at prices which were far under the prices charged by local printers and that his organization would demand immediate action of the board of education. He pointed out that local printers walk the streets without work and in some cases in want and hunger, while the school press, working with tax payers' money and equipment made it possible for cheap printing to be had at the school.

It also was learned that the Orange County Federation of Labor was interested in the investigation to be made and was standing by to support the county printers' association. The subject also has been brought up several times in the meetings of the Orange County Typographical association, it was said, and while no definite action has been taken by this group, it was understood that its members also favored some action which would stop the school shop from soliciting and printing commercial work.

FOUR ARRESTED IN CHAIN LETTER CASE

RENO, Nev., May 16.—(UP)—Four persons were under arrest here today charged with conducting a lottery in connection with operation of a chain letter club.

District Attorney Ernest Brown ordered the arrests after deciding any chain letter distribution contains an element of chance, thus in violation of the state constitution provision against lotteries.

The chain letter club plan as operated here called for investment of $5, 20 per cent of which was retained by the brokers for their commission in handling the transaction. In turn the investor is given two chain letters to sell so that his name will advance to the top of the list and the ultimate "pay-off."

Those arrested were R. C. Perrin, Laurence Reckler, E. Handwright, Reno attorney, and his son, C. B. Handwright. They pleaded not guilty when arraigned.

SUPREME COURT TO APPORTION WATERS

PHOENIX, Ariz., May 16.—(UP)—Efforts to have the United States supreme court apportion the waters of the Colorado river and end the controversy among basin states, were planned today by the Arizona Colorado river commission.

The commission, acting on a suggestion of Attorney General John L. Sullivan for an opinion of the feasibility of such a suit, pointing out that a test case was "suggested" by the supreme court when it halted construction of Parker dam.

The action, commissioners said, would end years of bickering between Arizona, California and other basin states over the streams flow.

INVESTIGATION INTO OCEAN VIEW SCHOOL CONDITIONS IS ORDERED BY RAY ADKINSON

AN INVESTIGATION of charges relating to conditions in Ocean View school, particularly with reference to the claim that immoral literature and pictures have been circulated in a certain classroom of the school with the approval of the teacher, was launched today by County Superintendent of Schools Ray Adkinson, after a group of school patrons had brought the matter before him.

The protest to Adkinson, growing out of the controversy that followed dismissal of Joseph Gebauer from the faculty, was accompanied by a demand for the removal of the entire school board. Trustees Vernon Holt, Conrad Worthy and T. J. Holt, who the patrons said, were disregarding the wishes of almost the entire district, as represented on petitions filed Tuesday evening with the board by Frank Morris, a law student of that community.

Adkinson informed the group that there is no authority for removal of the trustees, and that his position in the request for an

MOVE LAUNCHED TO REVIVE ORANGE COUNTY FAIR; PLAN TWO WEEKS OF HORSE RACES

PLANS FOR the revival of the Orange County Fair are being undertaken by the board of directors of the Orange County Fair association, it was revealed today by Harry A. Lake, president of the association. The proposed fair will include a horse racing meet if plans go through, Lake said.

Lake said today that only the outcome of racing and betting legislation now in the assembly was awaited before definite action on the fair was undertaken.

It was reported that a two-week or 10-day racing program would be undertaken, financed by Los Angeles sportsmen and promoters, in conjunction with the regular county agricultural fair. Plans are being considered for the building of a mile and a quarter track and construction of fair grounds, at one of several locations.

Members of the fair association already are taking preliminary steps toward the holding of the

BATTLE FLEET QUITS HAWAII TO APPEAR IN WATERS TODAY

BOARD THE U. S. S. PENNSYLVANIA, AT SEA, MAY 16.—Like warring chessmen on the vast game board of the Pacific, two contingents of the United States battle fleet moved surreptitiously today in position for the greatest peacetime "battle" of the century.

So dense was the secrecy veiling the fleet's movement that many aboard the frigate fighting ships did not know their exact whereabouts.

Mystery as to whereabouts of Vice Admiral Arthur J. Heppburn's 77 warships of the "Black" fleet, the attacking division, deepened as the days passed, with even officers of Admiral Harris Laning's 83 "White" defending ships unable to tell confidentially the exact position of the impending major engagement between the two units.

The defending fleet left Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, today expecting to meet the enemy within a week.

RAFFLES IS SOUGHT IN BURGLARY RING

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(UP)—A polished "Raffles" was sought by police today as the leader of a nation-wide burglary ring which assertedly stole more than half a million dollars in loot from the film colony in the last six months.

A grand jury investigation into charges against a woman and four men, arrested in connection with the case, was postponed when detectives announced they had learned the identity of the gang leader and had started a search for him.

Meanwhile police planned to question film colony celebrities who are believed to have been victims of the burglary "syndicate" which allegedly took $500,000 in jewelry, furs and other valuables from Hollywood homes and disposed of the stolen goods through "fences" in New York, Chicago and Mexico.

$183,000 IN BONUS PAID TO PICKERS

All Packing Houses This Year Paying 5 1/2 Cents Per Field Box

CITRUS packing houses in Orange county are paying orange pickers a half-cent bonus per field box this year, it was learned today by The Register. This bonus is expected to amount to more than $183,000 in extra earnings for orange pickers in the Valencia orange territory this year.

Practically all the packing houses in Orange county this year are paying five cents a field box for picking oranges this year, according to packing house managers, with an extra bonus of a half-cent a box if the pickers stay through the season.

The five-cent rate per field box is the same rate that was paid last year, the difference this year being that many houses that did not pay a bonus last year are doing so this year.

Most packing houses expect to employ more pickers this year than last, which means that more than 5000 persons will be employed in the citrus industry—this year.

The pickers alone will be paid in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 on the basis of an anticipated shipment of 40,000 cars of oranges from this section this season. Cars of fruit contain an average of about 750 field boxes of fruit.

Many local houses are enjoying an exceptional export trade, packing house managers said, and considerable optimism is felt concerning the outcome of the crop this year.

AMPHIBIANS LAND ON BOULDER LAKE

LAS VEGAS, Nev., May 16.—(UP)—Seven army amphibians prepared to return to Rockwell Field, San Diego, today after testing the man-made lake behind Boulder Dam as a "landing field."

The ships, comprising the first wing of the 19th bombardment group, paid a surprise visit last night and dropped upon the 45-mile long lake shortly after dusk.

One of the ships damaged a pontoon in landing and was left on the lake until this morning when repairs were made. The others were quartered at a commercial airport.

Major Harold M. McClelland, in charge of the 19 officers and five enlisted men in the group, described the lake as an ideal landing place for amphibians and seaplanes.

Two navy planes landed on the lake a month ago when it was much smaller than its present size. It ranges from one to two miles in width, is 45 miles long and about 140 feet deep.

WORK OF INSTALLING RADIO EQUIPMENT IN RCA STATION AT H. B. TO START AT ONCE

CONTRACTS for electrical construction work and for furnishing electric power for the half-million dollar Radio Corporation of America communications station between Newport Beach and Huntington Beach were signed today.

Officials of the Southern California Edison company and of the Radio Corporation of America have signed the contracts, it was learned by The Register.

The building which will house the Orange county station now is completed, it was learned, and installation of the expensive communications equipment will be started in the immediate future.

J. S. Philbrick of the RCA company is in Santa Ana now directing the construction work on the big station, which is located on an 83-acre tract purchased from G. E. Noll of Los Angeles.

The Orange county station is expected to be one of the most powerful commercial broadcasting stations ever erected. It will handle commercial messages only, sending messages to all points in the United States. It is one of the chain of broadcasting stations operated by RCA which stretch around the world.

The station here is the third on the Pacific coast, the other two being located near San Francisco and Seattle. Investigations by RCA engineers showed that the territory south of First street in Santa Ana down to the coast is almost perfect for radio reception and transmission and that is the reason why the site was chosen.

Solons Hurl Threats On House Floor

Rep. Blanton Of Texas Offers To Thrash Dickstein Of New York

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—Rep. Thomas L. Blanton, fiery Texas Democrat, threatened today on the house floor to thrash Rep. Samuel Dickstein, D. N. Y., to the point that "your own mother won't recognize you."

Blanton threatened Dickstein as the latter took the floor to defend his resolution proposing foreign boy Scouts be admitted into this country for the international jamboree here this summer without paying the customary $8 visa fee.

Blanton previously had objected to the resolution preventing its consideration on the grounds that it would permit undesirable foreign agitators to enter the nation also.

"The gentleman from Texas (Blanton) the other day told me in the cloakroom that he would thrash me so my own mother would not recognize me if I gave out any more statements to the press on why he opposed my resolution," Dickstein shouted.

"Yes," Blanton cried, "and I will do again if you put out another cowardly statement to the press like that."

Several congressmen interceded and Dickstein and Blanton agreed to withdraw their threats from the record.

Dickstein said Blanton had taken a "personal dislike for me" because as chairman of the immigration committee he had not pushed Blanton's immigration restriction bill.

Answering such reports as those, Early said:

"I will say as definitely as I can that the president is not interested in the bonus question because of political reasons or political expediency."

The president's message will make the strongest possible argument for sustaining of the veto.

Barring shifts, the Patman bill opponents appear to have the votes needed to prevent enactment of the measure over Mr. Roosevelt's objections. Indications point to a showdown roll call next week.

Conceding probability of defeat, bonus forces are planning to attack another bonus bill to one of the routine appropriation measures which must be passed before congress adjourns to provide funds for government activities.

SOUND TRUCK USED IN HUNT FOR BOY

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 16.—(UP)—A sound truck was called into the hunt today for Frank Szama, 7-year-old son of a naval academy athletic coach, believed lost or kidnapped.

The youngster has been missing from his home since yesterday afternoon.

Searching parties have been organized in neighboring towns and throughout the city to hunt the child. The sound truck was hired by the child's parents to cruise Annapolis streets and arouse citizens to aid in the search.

LUMBER KING PASSES AWAY

TACOMA, Wash., May 16.—(UP)—John Philip Weyerhaeuser, 77, president of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Co. and its affiliated holdings, died here today.

The aged lumberman was stricken Monday with pneumonia and failed to rally, his physician, Dr. Edwin W. James, reported.

Weyerhaeuser was born in Coal Valley, Ill., Nov. 4, 1856. He was educated in the public schools of Rock Island, Ill.

Throughout his active career, he had been engaged in the lumber business, developing the Weyerhaeuser firm to one of the largest woods and mill operators in the nation.

His wife, Anna Holbrook Weyerhaeuser, died here a year ago.

ALL DOUBT REMOVED BY SECRETARY

Bonus Forces Plan Attaching New Bill On Appropriation Measure

WASHINGTON, May 16.—(UP)—The Patman bonus bill today was sent to the White House, where it was officially announced President Roosevelt would veto it in the strongest possible terms.

The president's secretary, Stephen T. Early, resolved all possible doubts as to Mr. Roosevelt's attitude with an official announcement today saying:

"He will veto the bonus bill and his message on it will present as forceful an argument as he can on the subject."

The president's determination to veto the bill had been well known. But there had been recent rumors that the veto might be routine and that at heart he would not care if the veto were overridden.

Reports were circulated that some administration leaders were passing the word that the issue could be played both ways to the party's advantage—Mr. Roosevelt winning conservative support with a veto and Democratic senators corraling bonus supporters' votes by overriding him.

Answering such reports as those, Early said:

"I will say as definitely as I can that the president is not interested in the bonus question because of political reasons or political expediency."

The president's message will make the strongest possible argument for sustaining of the veto.

Barring shifts, the Patman bill opponents appear to have the votes needed to prevent enactment of the measure over Mr. Roosevelt's objections. Indications point to a showdown roll call next week.

Conceding probability of defeat, bonus forces are planning to attack another bonus bill to one of the routine appropriation measures which must be passed before congress adjourns to provide funds for government activities.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 16.—(To the Editor of The Register:)

Soldiers going to get their bonus, and I think they should have the first money we print. There are so many different (and honest) opinions as to what more money would do to us. That's the only way we can find out, is to print some. Anyhow, that two billion is going to change hands so fast and so many times in the first few weeks, and with taxes getting higher and higher, it's going to wind up right back where it started, in Mr. Morgenthau's locker.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

BATTLE FLEET QUITS HAWAII WATERS TODAY

It was understood the mock battle would be staged somewhere within a thousand mile radius of Midway Island, 1,200 miles northwest of Honolulu.

As the navy's momentous war games were worked out, it became apparent that the present maneuvers, involving solution of naval "Problem 16," was allowing much greater initiative to small commands than heretofore.

The opportunity for employing wartime strategy was extended to many more commanders than in previous annual maneuvers, with Admiral Joseph M. Reeves on the sidelines as a noncombatant umpire aboard the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, fleet flagship.

Admiral Reeves' observations of the maneuvers will be submitted to naval officials when the fleet returns to Honolulu about May 25. His summation of the activities is expected to have a vital bearing on America's future Pacific naval policies.

The naval maneuvers are arousing intense interest among Honolulu's civilian population.

REPEAL APPROVED BY GEORGIA VOTERS

ATLANTA, Ga., May 15.—(UP)—Dryness whittled the wet's lead in Georgia's special election to repeal the 28-year-old state liquor law to approximately 6,000 votes today. Legalization of the sale of beer and wine appeared to have been approved.

Returns from 1863 precincts of the state's 1752 gave 75,008 for repeal and 69,474 against repeal in yesterday's election.

An official tabulation of the ballots may be necessary in order to determine the fate of the repeal.

The vote on legalization of the sale of beer was 67,319 for beer and 54,418 votes against beer.

The vote on legalization of the sale of wine made from Georgia products was 67,619 for wine and 54,126 against.

PRINTERS OF CITY CHARGE PRICE CUTTING

"Our association is merely objecting to the school print shop cutting into the business of our members by giving cut rates for printing. These low rates can be made by the shop due to the fact that its overhead is paid by taxpayers of Santa Ana, of which we are a part, and because of the fact that it tends to keep printers here out of work," Flagg stated.

He also declared that the school shop was working with a state retail sales tax permit and that the sales tax is being paid regularly although no city license had ever been taken out to do commercial work. The fact that the sales tax is being paid, he said, proves that the school shop is taking commercial work.

Flagg stated that he had taken the matter up unofficially with George Wells, president of the board of education and that his organization would lay their request for investigation before the board, probably tomorrow.

The print shop in question is conducted by Thomas E. Williams, former Pullerton printer.

Williams, when advised today of the proposed action by the county printers' association, made the following statement:

"The things we have done here at the school shop are the things that the commercial printers don't want to do. I went to see Mr. Flagg a year ago to see if there was any objection to the books we were printing and he said then he had none to my doing this work. He further said he was the only printer in Orange county who could handle the books which we contemplated issuing.

"I don't believe the work we have done has been any disgrace to the profession, in fact I think it may have added to the good name of Santa Ana.

"I have several manuscripts available for any printer who wants to publish them and they won't cost him a penny. He can have them free providing he will guarantee to publish them in first class manner. If any of them can make any money from them they are welcome to them.

"Titles of two of the manuscripts are 'Early Gold Discoveries in California' and 'Vignettes of California.' Others are available if they do not want these.

"I'll be glad to have them get the work."

LILA LEE PLANNING TO SEEK DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—(UP)—Lila Lee, motion picture actress, will divorce her wealthy husband, John R. Peine, in Reno, the actress' attorney, C. P. Von Herzen, said today.

Von Herzen said Miss Lee had gone to Nevada to establish residence prior to filing suit. "Miss Lee will seek a divorce on the grounds that she and her husband are temperamentally unsuited to each other," he said, "but they will remain good friends."

Peine and Miss Lee were married in Harrison, N. Y., December 5, 1934.

and immoral practices" in the school. He was dismissed for failure to cooperate with others of the faculty because he refused to countenance such practices, he asserted.

In promising an investigation today, Adkinson indicated that he would immediately take up the probe. He declined to outline his plans, telling the group that he expected to get the evidence of both sides, and would see that all received a hearing.

Members of the group calling on the county superintendent indicated their belief that there would be no harmony in the school until the entire board and present faculty were removed. Various of those present avowed their intention of keeping their children out of the school until that happened. They would send them to Westminster school, they said.

"The Oceanview district will go to pieces" they warned. They did not demand Gebauer's reinstatement, saying that both Gebauer and themselves agreed that it would be best for him to return to the school, in the interest of harmony, but they demanded that he be cleared of the charge that he failed to cooperate. The trustees, they said, had misquoted other teachers on that point, as would be shown.

Politics, Religion

Both politics and religion have been dragged into the school at Oceanview, the patrons charged. Gebauer was penalized, they said, for his friendship with former Trustee Wellington De La Vergne.

Mrs. Hubert Irwin, Mrs. De La Vergne, R. A. Ross and others voiced the group's charges against school administration. They exhibited two copies of magazines and a group of snapshots, which they said had been circulated in one classroom.

Besides the speakers mentioned, the group today included Mrs. J.

One of three steps may be taken tomorrow by District Attorney Paul Thomas when he appears before Superior Judge Robert R. Syer at a new trial hearing. The prosecutor may ask for a new trial, a 30 day continuance or request dismissal.

Thomas' assistants who handled prosecution of the case at Lamson's two trials, Allan P. Lindsay and Herbert Bridges, were understood to be in favor of retrial.

Despite contradictory reports, Thomas indicated that heavy cost of the proceedings would not influence action toward a new trial. The second trial cost an estimated $30,000.

Club of Southern California presented R. E. Goodsell, of Los Angeles, who presented several reels of pictures of Mexico. C. H. Eichler was program chairman of the evening.

LILA LEE PLANNING TO SEEK DIVORCE

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—(UP)—Lila Lee, motion picture actress, will divorce her wealthy husband, John R. Peine, in Reno, the actress' attorney, C. P. Von Herzen, said today.

Von Herzen said Miss Lee had gone to Nevada to establish residence prior to filing suit. "Miss Lee will seek a divorce on the grounds that she and her husband are temperamentally unsuited to each other," he said, "but they will remain good friends."

Peine and Miss Lee were married in Harrison, N. Y., December 5, 1934.

PLAN FOR TREASURE HUNT INTO MEXICO

LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(UP)—A treasure hunt for a fortune in Spanish coins, jewels, gold and silver—cached in the wilds of Mexico as early as 1771—was planned today by Louis F. Vremsak, California engineer who recently was ransomed from Mexican bandits.

Undaunted by the ill fortune that befell him on his first expedition, Vremsak was negotiating with the Mexican government for permission to explore caves in a desolate mountain region where he claims the treasure is hidden.

"I have documents which show that thousands of gold and silver bars and triangular gold coins were buried by Spaniards to save them from invading bandit gangs," he said.

REPORT WILL HAYS GETS NEW CONTRACT

NEW YORK, May 16.—(UP)—The Motion Picture Daily, in a copyright story said today that Will H. Hays has signed another five year contract to continue as president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors Association of America, Inc., until 1941. His present contract expires in the spring of 1935.

Efforts to obtain confirmation at the office of the association were met with "no comment to make."

The Motion Picture Daily said the contract was signed by Hays and heads of the major film companies early this week and set at rest rumors that Postmaster General James A. Farley or Alfred E. Smith were favored for the post.

Are you serving a MINUS MEAL?

Many wives, unknowingly, serve "minus meals." The food is good, and well cooked. But it has little or no "bulk"—needed to promote regular habits.

"Minus meals" frequently cause common constipation due to insufficient "bulk" in the diet. Headaches, loss of appetite and dull, spiritless days too often follow.

Correct the "minus meal" by serving Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly. Its gentle "bulk" does not break down in the body as much as the fiber in fruits and vegetables. So it is more effective. ALL-BRAN also supplies vitamin B and iron.

Certainly it is safer to use this natural food in place of patent medicines. Two tablespoons daily are usually sufficient. Chronic cases, with each meal. If relief is not obtained, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN remains effective with continued use. Serve as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into muffins, breads, waffles, etc. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Honest Woman Sought By Purse Owner

Mrs. Mary Foster, of 808 Fairview avenue, today was searching for a woman whose name she doesn't know—an honest woman who did a good turn to Mrs. Foster.

Saturday night Mrs. Foster lost her purse which contained $25, in the south part of the city.

The woman who is sought by Mrs. Foster is the one who not only found the purse with the $25 in it, but who returned it while Mrs. Foster wasn't home. Mrs. Foster's young daughter accepted the purse and thanked the finder but failed to obtain her name. And so today Mrs. Foster is anxious to find who the woman is so that she can personally express her thanks, and asked The Register to assist her.

AVOCADO MEN TO GET $30,000 PAYMENT SOON

Better news for Orange county's many calavo and avocado growers!

Bringing the total returns to be received by local and other Southern California calavo-avocado growers within the last 10 days to the record $100,000 mark, the partial April Calavo marketing pool payment of $30,000 is being distributed late this week, it is reported here today by the local leaders of the growers' marketing cooperative.

Last week growers received $74,765.75 from their grower-owned marketing program, including $31,538.65 in a surprise cash dividend covering all fruit handled to April 1 of this season, and $40,402.29 for the March pool's final payment. Two other small payments were also included. The dividend represented savings made this season under budgeted costs.

March fruit deliveries to the growers cooperative established many records. They totaled 2,498,239 pounds, two and one-half times the December receipts or more than the total 1933 crop. Although the March pool contained 80 per cent more fruit, it returned prices that were within 5 per cent of those of January. Despite the March pool having two and a half times more fruit, its per pound returns were the same as those of December. Better fortunes in March, making up the bulk of the pool, will return a total of approximately 5 cents per pound "net" to growers at their groves.

AAA OFFICIAL WILL ADDRESS CITY HALL JOBS FARM PICNIC AT STANDSTILL

The complete program for the eighteenth annual Farm bureau picnic to be held Saturday at Irvine park was released today by L. A. Bortz, chairman of the picnic committee of the bureau. The feature of the afternoon's program will be an address on "The Economics of Surplus Control of Agricultural Products," by Dr. Harry Wellman, economist of the University of California.

"Dr. Wellman is well known among the citrus leaders of Orange county," Bortz said today, "since he worked in the development of the early proration program in Valencia oranges. He is the author of the plan which developed the factors which go to make up the price of oranges."

During the past year Dr. Wellman has been the chief of the security crop section of the AAA at Washington, and in this capacity has had to administer the national phases of the orange, walnut, peach, asparagus and a number of other non-basis crop marketing agreements under the AAA. His message is said to be of particular interest to the bean farmers, citrus and walnut growers, as well as avocado growers, crops in which surplus control is an important factor today.

The picnic luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will be followed by a full program, including group singing, led by Frank Pierce; wife-calling and balloon-blowing contests; athletic stunts, and a ball game between Farm centers representing the north and south parts of Orange county.

A program of junior stunts and games will be held on the athletic field from 1:45 o'clock to 3 o'clock, under the direction of the 4-H Club council. There will be dancing in the pavilion for those who wish.

DISPUTE OVER CITY HALL JOBS FARM PICNIC AT STANDSTILL

City Attorney L. W. Blodgett today declined to discuss a request made to him yesterday for injunction proceedings against steel contractors on the city hall job, other than to say that he "represented nobody in the matter except the city of Santa Ana and that supervision and employment of labor at the city hall project is under control of PWA, represented by the resident engineer, Mr. Houghton."

Blodgett was interviewed yesterday by J. C. Rose, local construction engineer, who was among a group of local steel workers who protested against exclusive employment of Los Angeles workers by the Truscon company, sub-contractors on the city hall job. Rose said he had been advised by PWA Coordinator Wright, of San Francisco, to see the city attorney about compelling compliance with PWA regulations regarding preference to local labor.

Meanwhile the dispute between the local workers, on one side, and the contractors and Inspector V. W. Houghton, on the other, as to whether the jobs should be given to local men, was said to be at a temporary standstill.

So far as the contractors and the inspector were concerned, the matter was understood to be closed. They contended that the local workers were not competent to do the work, but that they would receive a chance to demonstrate their ability and thereby gain membership in the Los Angeles union, after which they would be given jobs.

Union membership, the local men claim, is the "joke" in the proposition. They refuse to pay the union initiation fee of $9.50 and monthly dues of $4.50 in order to get work on the local project. When this job was done they would not be able to work at other local jobs, because very few are union jobs, they point out.

PWA requirements do not demand that they shall belong to the union, Rose and his associates further insist.

New Hearing On Mail Service At Beach Scheduled

LAGUNA BEACH, May 16.—Hopes for the establishment here of a city mail carrier and collection service, urged in numerous petitions submitted to the Washington authorities, were revived today with advice from Congressman Sam L. Collins that the request for such service has been reopened and that a new hearing will be held soon. The advice added that a post office inspector attached to the San Diego office has been directed to make another investigation as to the need of a carrier service and file a report. A short time ago word was received here from the postmaster general's office stating that the request for carrier service at Laguna Beach could not be considered at this time because of limited appropriations.

HERBERT MUSIC DRAMA AT WEST COAST THEATER

Choice of "Naughty Marietta," Victor Herbert's classic operetta which opens an engagement of a week at the West Coast theater today, as the vehicle for filming the screen's first great musical adventure story, has brought to picture audiences here one of the greatest musical works ever composed.

Produced on a spectacular scale with Jeanette MacDonald, acknowledged one of the greatest singing stars of the American screen, and Nelson Eddy, American operatic baritone, hailed as a sensational discovery among romantic leading men, "Naughty Marietta" was filmed as a thundering drama of the romantic Creole days of Louisiana, a vehicle that gives to the famous Victor Herbert music the importance it deserves.

Among the songs in the film are "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," and "I'm Falling in Love with Someone." The importation of the Casquette Girls from France to mate with the settlers in Louisiana, the New Orleans marriage auction, the battle of the Everglades, the pirate capture of the casquette ship and other authentic and dramatic details of the history of the founding of one of America's most romantic cities were woven into a thrilling adventure romance. Manager Lester J. Fountain announced today that a special matinee for women will be held at the West Coast theater tomorrow at 2 p. m. He urged those who plan to attend the matinee to come early, because of the length of the film.

Where Work Is Being Rushed for Stratoflight

The rugged, tree-clad slopes of the Black Hills in South Dakota look down on this new town, where intense activity prevails in preparation for the second stratosphere hop of the National Geographic Society and the army air corps, scheduled for June. The camp of tents and frame buildings is shown, with the winding trails down which supplies and equipment are being rushed. The ring from which the start will be made is clearly outlined in the immense bowl.

Club and Bottle Used In Fight; Assailant Jailed

It was a tangled-up affair. One man said he had been hit over the head with a bottle. The other claimed he had been assaulted with a club. Both had scars to prove it.

The officers investigated, and finally turned the matter over to the district attorney's office to straighten out, if possible.

Today Manuel Madrano, 25, of Stanton, was in the county jail, charged with assault and battery on the person of Santiago Martinez, former pool room proprietor of Stanton.

Martinez had been sought by officers earlier in the week after Madrano had been found alongside a road at Stanton in a semi-conscious condition. He said Martinez had hit him with a bottle. The following day Martinez appeared at the sheriff's office with a bandage on his head, saying Madrano had hit him with a club.

Through witnesses it was learned that Madrano had been the aggressor, and the assault charge was filed.

7 KILLED IN AUTO TRAFFIC EACH DAY IN CALIFORNIA; MORE LIQUOR CASES REPORTED

An average of seven California residents are being killed each day in traffic accidents and 116 injured, according to figures received today by Chief of Police Floyd Howard from E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol.

The bulletin disclosed that during the three months of January, February, and March of this year, there were 7792 traffic accidents in the state, with 618 killed and 10,477 injured.

The number of motor vehicles involved totaled 11,934, the statement said, and the number of pedestrians, 2583.

Traffic deaths in the state are 28 per cent ahead of the similar period for 1934, and are slightly ahead of last year to date.

The first quarter of this year shows an increase of 36.9 per cent in the number of cases of intoxication involving auto accidents over the 1933 figures, according to the report.

"Had been drinking" was the notation in the cases of 882 drivers and 243 pedestrians involved in this year's accidents, Cato's review showed.

MICROPHONE STABILIZATION—

Money men have been wondering why Mr. Morgenthau suddenly developed a radio urge to express himself about the American dollar. No one has asked him about it lately. Heretofore he has touched this subject only with a ten-foot pole.

The fact that he arranged radio time to unburden himself before the world has spawned a rumor that an international money agreement may be reached before the disintegration of what is left of the gold bloc. This does not appear to be true.

ALIBI

What seems to have happened is that Mr. Morgenthau secretly and unofficially sounded out some of the nations on stabilization and found them in a very disagreeable mood. There are reasons for suspecting Britannia flatly snubbed Mr. Morgenthau's indirect feelers on more than one occasion, the last of which was recent.

The failure of these moves left Mr. Morgenthau standing in the middle of the car tracks of the world, alone with his dollar, a much misunderstood man. The simplest solution was to remove from himself the blame for continuing unsettled currencies by a public statement.

This seems to be about all there was to it.

The money seems with the best eyes can now detect the beginning of a world clamor for stabilization. It will eventually result in another international economic conference—eventually, but probably not anytime soon. In the end we will have to take the initiative because we broke up the last one. Mr. Morgenthau already has taken the first hesitant step by establishing his dollar alibi.

RATIO—

The gold-silver ratio in Mr. Morgenthau's address seemed to be about ninety-nine to one. At least 99 per cent of his address related to gold and 1 per cent to silver. All he said about Father Coughlin's metal was: "We are also endeavoring to restore silver to greater usefulness as a monetary metal."

Do not be fooled into suspecting from this that the treasury is getting ready to ease down on its silver policy. The silver politicians know different.

GHOULISH DIPLOMACY—

The warmth of life had not left the body of Marshal Pilsudski (Poland's George Washington) before the politicians of Europe started grabbing at Poland.

Herr Hitler moved first by sending condolences before anyone else could. That was not all. His diplomatic sorrow for Poland had to be spectacular, so his right-hand-holder, Goering, the man of many uniforms, was designated, along with two Nazi generals, to attend the funeral. State Secretary Meisner was sent to the Polish legation to see that Hitler's name appeared first in the condolence book. Then came the climax when Hitler announced he would enter a disapproving church to attend memorial services. The answer is that Hitler is playing energetically against France and the Russians for Polish support.

Old Pilsudski was very adept in this situation. He played with Hitler one day and France the next. Now there is danger that his successors may not be as shrewd. That means trouble.

POLITICS—

The right key to the Farley matter seems to rest in the unspoken attitude of the progressive Republicans. They said privately that they thought Huey Long had a very weak case against the postmaster general. But they all dislike Farley and voted for a senatorial investigation of him because they hoped it would uncover something better.

Political pressure was strong on the other side of the aisle. In fact it was so strong that Huey quietly released a few of his own Democratic friends. His move was lost anyway. There was no need to cause embarrassment by requiring them to vote with him. Two absented themselves, two others voted against him and one, who had publicly announced his support of Huey, also voted against him.

This probably will save them from the wrath of the Farley regime in matters of patronage, etc.

COST—

President Roosevelt's special cabinet committee is trying to find out how much the cotton processing tax costs consumers. AAA's point to the fact that the tax is but 4.5 cents per pound of cotton and contend it is negligible as a price factor in a cotton shirt. Textile men have a different view. They say it is not so much the tax as the mark-ups as cloth passes through various processes.

The only real data were dug up by the Federal Trade Commission sometime ago. They indicate the processing tax adds about 10 per cent to the cost of cotton goods. In other words, a $1 shirt will cost $1.10 due to the tax.

NOTES

Auto production for this month has been ruined by the strike. The output of one low-priced car dropped two-thirds in one week.

Professor Tugwell has privately submitted to the White House a plan to build houses here for administrative assistants in the government.

12 wealthy young business men

decided to enter the new deal and finally begged a job in General Wood's office. He wanted to quit the first day. He came to work at 8 a. m. and was kept until after midnight.

Stabilization is like the weather. Everyone talks about it, but no one ever does anything about it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullen

HANDICAP—

The Banking Act of 1933 slammed the door on security dealing by J. P. Morgan & Co. and other private banks. An unopposed and almost unnoticed provision in Title III of the current banking bill reopens it at least part way. Private banking houses will be allowed to underwrite federal, state and municipal securities—and bonds of such government agencies as the Federal Land Banks and the Home Owners' Loan Corporation—on the same terms as national banks.

Moreover an amendment has been proposed which would swing the door wide again by permitting banking institutions to underwrite and wholesale all types of securities. They would not be permitted to retail. This would put Morgan's back exactly where it was before. The house never did any retailing anyway.

Is this amendment the fruit of a subtle Wall Street plot. Not exactly. It is privately sponsored by such thoroughly New Deal agencies as the Treasury, the Federal Reserve Board and the Securities Commission. The White House attitude is unknown. The point is that the revival of corporate financing the government wants is handicapped by the absence of underwriting capital locked up in banks by the present law.

FORBIDDEN—

You might think investment houses would be perturbed by the threat of competition from bigger fish in the financial pond. Quite the contrary. Their resources are ample for retelling but it's too much of a stretch to underwrite large issues. They would welcome bank collaboration in this respect and they would still have the retail field to themselves. Revival of Morgan participation in security underwriting would practically guarantee a marked jump in new capital offerings to the benefit of all dealers.

Moreover the investment firms would much rather have the bankers in on the game this way than grabbing off their business through the side door as at present. Sinclair Consolidated Oil's decision to refund $40,000,000 of bonds with bank loans is the latest example of this. The banks in their eagerness to find a use for idle funds are offering money to corporations of sound credit standing cheaper than they can get it in an open market security issue, for periods as long as five years. That really does get under the regular dealers' skin.

Permission to banks to wholesale and underwrite doesn't connote a return to boom-day abuses. The big trouble then was in the retail end—which will remain forbidden fruit.

INDEPENDENT—

Here's the low-down on that "suppressed" social security report turned in by Roper's Advisory Council. Three members of the Council were appointed to draft it. They made no pretense of knowing much about the question and hired an outside expert to prepare it. He did so, and they signed it. But it has not been coordinated—or even compared—with other government studies on the subject and was so at variance with them that the President decided not to make it public except as part of a larger picture.

Informed New Yorkers understand the White House feels the Advisory Council has misapprehended its true functions. It's supposed to advise the President—not to act as an independent agency free to publish its own conclusions on its own responsibility.

The point is made that a committee named by the president of a corporation to counsel him on certain matters doesn't air its opinions without his consent.

A number of Council members disagree with this interpretation. They want to be free to criticize as well as approve—and to express their ideas to Congress and the public as well as to the White House. Moreover some of them are furious because their group was made to appear in opposition to the Chamber of Commerce—whereas they actually agree with the Chamber on most issues. There's still hot talk about the Council dissolving itself unless it's allowed to take an independent position openly, but chances are the misunderstandings will be ironed out and the Council will continue.

LOGICAL—

There's a solid background to the Ham-Fish-for-President move. A large amount of money is available to back him as a candidate. He has the staunch support of some of the fine old New York families—who see in him a worthy apostle of true Americanism. Also some big industrialists are well sold on him. Not that Fish—or any other Easterner—will be the Republican nominee for President next year. But watch for a strong campaign to build him as big a following as possible. It may register well. Veterans are expected to go for him because of his Americanization activities in the American Legion.

A successful drive on these lines would serve a useful purpose from the conservative viewpoint. It would make him the logical man to be named for the Vice Presidency—and thus head off the disturbing prospect of John G. Winant of New Hampshire in that post. Winant is

SHARE WEALTH CLUBS STARTED IN ORANGE CO.

What may prove to be the firing of the opening gun in the Huey Long for president movement, in Orange County, is seen today with the renting of the Santa Ana Municipal Bowl for the night of June 4 or 5, at which time a big mass meeting is planned by organizers of the Share Our Wealth Society, now being formed here.

The city council has not passed on the renting of the bowl but is expected to take up the matter Monday night. Money for the rent, however, has been posted, according to backers of the movement.

The arrangements for the renting of the bowl were made today by N. W. Rathbun, Long Beach life insurance man, who came to Santa Ana today.

It also was learned this afternoon that Rathbun is making arrangements for the renting of a national club and that this was one of the reasons that California was being organized into clubs.

The Share Our Wealth Society backers expect to organize in Santa Ana and Orange County. Presidents and other club officials will be elected locally and the local organizations will be part of a national club, now being fostered throughout the country.

Circulars, carrying reprints from the congressional record in which Long's Share the Wealth program is explained, are being used here in the formation of the Orange County clubs.

TOM MOONEY FIGHTS MOVE FOR RELEASE

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Calif., May 16.—(UP)—Tom Mooney today struck back at what he termed an "effort to kick him out of prison" without vindication for the murder convictions brought against him after the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing of 1916.

Mooney's statement was an answer to the move that Governor Frank Merriam is considering for commuting the terms of Mooney and Warren K. Billings, his associate, both under life terms for alleged participation in the Preparedness Day blast during a parade on Market street.

"I wish to condemn as cowardly subterfuge any commutation of my sentence," Mooney said in a statement after he was visited in prison by John F. Pinerly, his Washington, D. C., attorney.

SHONE

Some unpublished angles on Father Coughlin's Cleveland meetings: It was his first public session where no member of his New York entourage—such as cotton broker Robert Harris and ex-banker George LeBlanc—appeared on the stage. There were fewer priests in evidence than usual. Senator Pat McCarran of Nevada was advertised to be there but—like Governor Fitzgerald of Michigan previously—failed to show up.

Congressman Martin Sweeney of Cleveland was very much present. So was Sweeney's local organization—whose efforts to spur attendance helped assure an impressive crowd. The Congressman who is frankly not rated a high caliber statesman by the informed—was badly beaten for Mayor of Cleveland last year, but cherishes senatorial ambitions. Insiders say that Coughlin's assault on Senator Bulkeley was chiefly designed to give his friend Sweeney a helping hand.

The Radio Priest is credited with smart stage management in presenting a mediocre collection of speakers before his entry. Comment runs it was no wonder he shone by comparison.

DIFFICULT

Charles R. Gay—new president of the Stock Exchange—will spare no effort to put his outfit in right again with the public. One reason he is naming an executive assistant to handle details is to leave himself free to act as good will ambassador.

Mr. Gay didn't wait until he took office to start his campaign for a better understanding. In the past month he has written hundreds of letters to people in different sections of the country asking why the Exchange was in wrong with their fellow citizens. It's reported that one of the chief grievances expressed was the fact that the Exchange is located in New York. That's a disease the new president will find it difficult to cure.

SIDELIGHTS

Brokers say the public has come back on the market the last couple of weeks. Activity in the five-dollar stocks is an indication. New Yorkers with Mexican investments are worried. There are signs that the Mexican government plans to go much further to the left. Good crops on the Pacific coast would modify the terms of at least two railroad reorganizations.

ASSEMBLY VOTES TO RETURN UTILITY TAX

SACRAMENTO, CAL., May 16.—(UP)—Return of $889,655,769 of utility property to local tax rolls was assured today when the assembly voted 59 to 12 to table a bill proposing that the state retain income from utilities.

Return of the utility property to local tax rolls will benefit counties by approximately $70,000,000 during the next biennium, according to state estimates. In the past, utilities have been taxed by the state on the basis of gross receipts. The transfer will cost the state approximately $60,000,000, accounting for two-thirds of the revenue deficit faced by the general fund.

LIST ENTRIES FOR VALENCIA SHOW PARADE

FULLERTON, May 16.—Entries are being listed at the Fullerton Chamber of commerce office for the parade that will open the second annual three-day Valencia Orange festival. The parade will be at 7 p. m. June 6 and will be followed by the Orange packing contest in the stadium of the high school.

Already entries for the contest have signed from as far north as Ojai and as far south as Escondido and teams and individuals will enter for the large prizes that are being offered. On Friday, the second day of the festival, there will be a garden party at the California hotel under Mrs. Edna MacMaster's chairmanship.

Athletic events will continue on the second day and also into the third day.

H. S. Smith is general chairman of the group; J. B. Horner and J. D. Mattner are in charge of the parade. Lloyd Verry and the Junior Chamber of commerce are in charge of the athletic events.

There will be nine general divisions in the parade. There will be the decorated theme float under the general supervision of Ralph Irwin; a fraternal order division under B. F. Lundeen; educational groups under general supervision of Hubert Dawson; industrial division under Leonard West; the decorated car division under Business and Professional Women's club; the bicycle division will be under supervision of John F. Clark; dealer's new car division under B. F. Roberts, and the equestrian division under Fred Strauss, Fred Suters, and John Wagner.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE IS DEBATE TOPIC

Induction of four new members, a debate upon government unemployment insurance by the crack Junior college team, and announcement of organization activities for the ensuing weeks featured the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club held today noon at James cafe.

The debate was presented as part of an entertainment program given by members of the Junior Lions club of the J. C. who attended today's meeting in a body. Harold Woodward and Robert Tannenbaum presented the arguments in favor of unemployment insurance, while the negative arguments were given by Glenn Bishop and Claude Owens.

The affirmative claimed unemployment insurance would tend to "smooth out" depressions, reorganize faith, and should be supplemented with a program of planned public works. Negative speakers pointed out defects of the insurance proposals and said they would be bad from the standpoint of enabling people to live without work, which would have a disastrous effect upon employers, employees, and the state.

Nelson Rogers, also of the Junior Lions, entertained with a vocal number, accompanied on the piano by John Henderson. John McCarty was program chairman for the day.

President Kenneth Morrison called attention to the county council meeting to be held next Monday evening at Bird's cafe in Laguna Beach, when a speaker will be selected to compete in the five-minute talk contest at the San Diego district convention in June.

E. H. Rowland, past international director, inducted four new members into the Lions club, pointing out the great benefits of friendship and cooperation which the Lions have brought about since the first preliminary meeting in Chicago on June 7, 1917. The new members are Ray Holles, Dick Lee, Don Dearth and Hubert Gohres.

Joe Peterson, chairman of the club's entertainment committee, announced the annual installation party will be held at the Ebelle club on the evening of June 6, when a special entertainment program will be presented.

Milburn Harvey will be chairman of next week's meeting. It was announced when the annual election of officers will take place, with a speaker from the U. S. customs office at Los Angeles harbor.

SPANISH AVIATOR ON OCEAN FLIGHT

SEVILLE, Spain, May 16.—(UP)—Juan Ignacio Pombo, 21-year-old Spanish aviator, started today on a transatlantic flight—to see his sweetheart in Mexico City.

Pombo took off at 5:55 a. m. today (12:55 a. m. EST) for Villa Cisneros, in the Rio de Oro country on the west coast of Africa. Thence he will continue to Dakar to take off for Natal, Brazil, to follow the South and Central American coast northward to Mexico.

His flight is the result of a promise to his sweetheart, a 19-year-old girl whose name he has not disclosed. She left Spain several months ago with her parents to reside in Mexico City, and Pombo promised her he would fly across to visit her.

Thompson will furnish accurate engineering data on the various phases of the Orange county program in an effort to get prompt government action.

The plan previously has been recommended for approval by the president's advisory board.

Thompson will contact officials of the public works administration and the natural resources board.

It is not known when he will be able to return.

SELKIRK TRIES HARD BUT HE'S NO 'NEW RUTH'

CLEVELAND, May 15. — That big No. 3 on his back seems too much for George Alexander Selkirk.

The New York Yankees have given up on the Canadian-born outfielder whom they hoped would succeed the illustrious George Herman Ruth. He is on the market.

An act of Joe McCarthy is admission that he suspects he made a mistake in not easing the load of the man replacing Ruth by eliminating the large No. 3 carried with such grace for 15 years by the inimitable Bambino.

McCarthy evidently erred in his appraisal of Selkirk, but in justice to the Yankee manager, the star of the Newark farm appeared to be a phlegmatic individual who would not be handicapped even when it was certain that his work would be compared with that of the greatest figure in the history of the game.

McCarthy considered Selkirk such a good trouper after eight years in Double A loops that he not only had the No. 3 tacked on his back, but baited him in the No. 3 position, where Ruth revolutionized baseball.

McCarthy Wanted to Junk Babe Ruth's Old Number 3

Just before he was seized by influenza, on the eve of the Yankees' departure for the west, McCarthy, realizing his slight sought to lessen the burden on Selkirk.

"You look a bit nervous, George," McCarthy told Selkirk. "Maybe this business of being called the new Ruth has got you down. How about a few days' layoff?"

"I'd prefer to stick in there," replied Selkirk.

"Well, then," countered McCarthy, "how about changing your number? Take any number you please. I want to do everything possible to prevent you from pressing in an effort to live up

JIM, BARNEY FRIENDLY FOES

But Friendships Will Be Off The Eve Of May 28

ROSS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

GROSSINGER LAKE, N. Y., May 15.—When the tocsin sounds in Polo Grounds on the night of May 28, and Barney Ross and Jimmy McLarnin square off with the welterweight championship at stake, don't be surprised, if you are hunched close to the ringside, to hear Barney say:

"It's all off for forty-five minutes. Jimmy, so watch out."

And Jimmy, his lips drawn back in that cold grin, answers:

"Okay kid. Take care of yourself."

For Barney and Jimmy are friends. They exchange Christmas cards. They remember each other's birthday. And when their paths meet between fights they like nothing better than to sit down and talk over their previous meetings, with Ross arguing he was robbed and Jimmy contending that a blind man could see that he, Jimmy, was out in front a mile.

Lounging With Ross
Lounging in the living room of his cozy cottage here last night, Ross, his day's work done and the old Maestro Ben Bernie's soft music on the radio, fell to talking about the man whose head he'll endeavor to knock off out there in the Polo Grounds.

"You know, I sort of go for that Irishman," Ross said. "He's an all right guy. He'll try and knock you dead in that ring, but his shots are always clean. I remember in our first fight he landed a couple of rabbit punches back of my neck, but soon as I told him he oughta lay off that illegal stuff, he cut it out. Get me straight, though. We're not one of those fancy brother acts. I'm telling you the truth when I tell you that, even though I think he's a great guy. I'd rather beat him than anybody I know. (Barney's managers) hear me talking about liking the Irishman. They say it's bad business and raise hell with me. So does Mike Jacobs, the promoter."

What did Barney think of Jimmy as a fighter?

Still Hits Like Mule
"He's got damn near everything. He's getting a little old, and his legs start freezing up after a few rounds, but that's about his only weakness. He can still hit like a mule, and he's a sweet boxer. And in Barney's last fight with Jimmy, Referee Arthur Donovan gave McLarnin 10 of the 15 rounds, and all the judges were Irish. There won't be any such set-up May 28, his managers said today.

"If Donovan is named to referee and they don't give us a more impartial jury," they said, "There won't be any fight, for we'll just refuse to let Ross get in the ring. We didn't squawk much after the last one, figuring that the boxing commission had just made a mistake. But we're not going to let them make the same one all over again."

ORANGE LEAGUE TO DRAW CARD WITHOUT S. A.

Abandoning efforts to interest Santa Ana and Fullerton in affiliating with the Orange league, the thespian county high school conference today prepared to draft a 1935-36 athletic program that will match teams only according to size of enrollment.

In the proposed schedule, the card will be staggered so that the smaller schools will not have to play any of the four large ones.

However, arrangements will be made for the two leading schools in percentage to meet in a post-season playoff for the right of proceeding in the Southern California championship series.

According to plans approved by the Orange County Principals' association yesterday, the schedule will be drawn as follows:

(1) Anaheim will play Tustin, Newport Harbor, Garden Grove, Huntington Beach and Orange.

(2) Orange will play Brea-Olinda, Newport Harbor, Garden Grove and Anaheim.

(3) Huntington Beach will play Laguna Beach, Garden Grove, Newport Harbor, Orange and Anaheim.

(4) Newport Harbor will play Valencia, Brea, Huntington Beach, Orange and Anaheim.

(5) Garden Grove will play Capistrano, Tustin, Huntington Beach, Orange and Anaheim.

(6) Tustin will play Valencia, Capistrano, Laguna Beach, Newport Harbor and Anaheim.

(7) Brea-Olinda will play Anaheim, Valencia, Capistrano, Laguna Beach and Brea-Olinda.

(8) Laguna Beach will play Huntington Beach, Garden Grove, Newport Harbor and Tustin.

(9) Capistrano will play Newport Harbor, Garden Grove, Tustin, Brea and Laguna Beach.

(10) Valencia will play Capistrano, Laguna Beach, Brea-Olinda, Tustin and Garden Grove.

One of the strongest contenders for the City league championship last year, the Santa Ana 20-20 club's baseball team makes its seasonal debut in the Municipal Bowl tonight. The clubmen take the first National Bank and the South Methodist Juniors.

Either Joe Cornelius, onetime act of the Stars, or Claude Gregory will do the slinging for the 20-20's. The squad has plenty of punch with such sluggers as Howard McIlvain, Darwin Scott, Larry Mitchell and Johnny Lutz swinging war clubs one after another.

Jimmy Haynes will be on the mound for the Seniors.

Gene Hitt, who had a no-hit game in his last year, and the First National Bank's hurling against the M. E. South Juniors who will call on Ross Boyd.

SHORT AND NIEBLAS LEAD SAINT HITTERS

Ray Short, second baseman, and Art Nieblas, outfielder, led Santa Ana high school's baseball team in batting during the season just completed, according to official averages announced today by Coach Clyde Cook.

Short, averaging .357, headed the team in Coast league games. Nieblas, mark of .345 was best for the entire season, which included a number of practice contests. The figures:

CLEVELAND INDIANS MAKE BOW IN EAST

NEW YORK, May 16.—(UP)—Bitter pennant races in both major circuits were interrupted today. Western American leagues came east for the first time, and Eastern Nationals made their first visit into the west. Only three games are on the day's program.

COLE'S WIN PROTESTED
LOS ANGELES, May 16.—(UP)—Judges were trying to decide today who won the 40-lap main event automobile race at Ascot speedway last night. Hal Cole finished first, but the victory was protested by Frank Wearne, who finished second.

Setting Pace for Babe Ruth

A new rival for Babe Ruth's home run honors has made his appearance in the person of Dolf Camilli, young first baseman of the National League Phillies. Above he's pictured scoring his fifth home run in five games, to lead in the major league slugging specialty. Hubbell of the Giants was the victim of the fifth blow.

STATE WOULD LEGALIZE CAL. RACE 'BOOKIES'

SACRAMENTO, May 16.—(UP)—Bookmaking, now conducted in pool halls and at corner cigar stores in more or less secretive manner, would be legalized and placed on an open, taxable basis under terms of a bill sent to the lower house today with approval of the assembly public morals committee.

The measure, by Assemblyman Rodney L. Turner of Delano, would tax bookmakers $1000 annually and add 10 cents to the cost of each ticket, the 10 cents going to the state. Turner estimated the bill would raise $4,000,000 biennially.

"We have more betting through bookmakers than at the tracks," he said, "and it is uncontrolled. We might as well legalize it and give the state a chance to profit by collecting fees and taxes."

PROPOSE INCREASE IN TAX AT SANTA ANITA
SACRAMENTO, May 16.—(UP)—Making the Santa Anita track the source of additional state revenue, Senator Culbert Olson's amendments and a new race bill were sent to the senate revenue and taxation committee today by the judiciary group.

Olson's amendments to the bill which was tabled Tuesday night provided an additional tax at Santa Anita by a provision which would affect tracks in counties of more than 1,000,000 population. The amendment seeks a 6 per cent mutual tax in Los Angeles county, but exempts other tracks in the state which would continue to be taxed 4 per cent of wagers.

In an earlier meeting, the judiciary committee voted to continue the present pari-mutuel tax of 4 per cent for another two years and permit tracks to retain the breakage and unclaimed bets.

WOMEN GOLF FINALISTS IN TITULAR ROUND

In the most important women's golf match played here in a year-and-a-half, Mrs. J. L. McFadden and Miss Lolita Mead clash tomorrow for the championship of the Santa Ana Country club, teeing off at 10 a.m.

Mrs. McFadden is the defending champion, although no tournament was held last year. She won the title in 1933, defeating Miss Mead in the final round, two up.

Last year's event was purposely postponed so it could be held in May rather than October in keeping with a custom at all Southern California Golf association clubs.

Observers are reluctant to pick a favorite for the 1935 finale. The finalists are considered of equal ability and both are playing near top form now.

Mrs. McFadden reached the finals by defeating Mrs. B. W. McClure, Mrs. Harry Bakke and Mrs. L. H. Robinson, equalling the women's former course record of 81 against Mrs. Robinson. Miss Mead eliminated Mrs. C. V. Doty, Mrs. Don Andrews and Mrs. R. W. Weston.

Both Mrs. McFadden and Miss Mead have spent the past week in daily practice. They travel 18 holes at scratch.

Past winners and runners-up for the championship:

CHAMPION
1928—Miss Enid Twist
1930—Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth
1931—Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth
1932—Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth
1933—Mrs. J. L. Ainsworth
1934—No tournament.

MRS. HARRIS WINNER AT WILLOWICK
Playing only the three-par holes, Mrs. Sidney Harris won a unique women's tournament at Willowick yesterday. She had a card of 15-10. Four players tied for second place: Mrs. Ben Livezey, Mrs. P. A. Hooven, Mrs. Fred Reyer and Mrs. Harry Woodington. They all carded 16-5-11.

BOSS Praised
"But the real credit for my improved hitting belongs to my boss, Jimmy Wilson. He advised me to change my batting style the first day I reported for winter practice. Jimmy suggested that I adopt a more open stance at the plate, moving my right (Camilli is left-handed) foot around a few inches towards first base. I had been standing with each foot equally near the plate. The switch made me a natural pull hitter and converted me from a right to a left field hitter."

Wilson has done more for Camilli than merely changing his batting stance. The Phillies pilot has created a deal of confidence in the young graduate of the Pacific Coast league. These two men were not in accord when baseball fates first drew them together.

When Wilson traded Don Hurst to the Cubs for Camilli, Dolph balked at reporting. Finally a meeting was arranged and the cause of Camilli's reticence was that he thought Wilson planned trading him to a minor league team.

Proved Statement
"Camilli didn't want to join up with us," Wilson explains. "Dolph thought because we had just landed Jim Clancy from the International that we planned to ship him out of the majors. I told Dolph right off that he was due for the regular first base job and to prove it I sent Clancy back to the International."

"Wait and see, Camilli will be the best fielding first baseman in the majors this year. Last year, he led Jimmy Collins, Bill Terry and a lot of others. There's no guessing what he will do at the plate before the year ends. But there's one thing to remember—Dolph hits bad ones for the circuit the same as 'Chuck' Klein used to do when he was with us."

Camilli attracted notice early in the season principally because he was the early leader among home run hitters. His brother who fought under the ring name of Campbell died after a bout with Max Baer, current heavyweight champion.

Laguna Council Opens Bids On New Sewer System

LET CONTRACT FOR WORK ON NEXT MONDAY

LAGUNA BEACH, May 16.—Bids for construction of a sanitary sewer lateral system, connecting up with the Arch Beach main sewer, recently completed, and serving territory lying between Bluebird canyon and Thalia street, were opened at the regular city council meeting held last night. The low bid was submitted by J. L. Kruly, Los Angeles, at $44,230.10.

Other bids were as follows: Goetz and Rados, $47,262.65; Nick Chutuck, $47,758.13; Bedik Brich, $49,126.75; Magonovich and Gillespie, $49,474.43; J. C. Hickey, $49,525.70, and the V. C. K. Construction company, $59,216.63. It was announced that contract for the work will be awarded at a special meeting set for May 20.

Referred to the police department for investigation and report was a communication, carrying signatures of a number of property owners and residents, complaining about noise created at the Studio club, a cafe located on the boulevard in the Arch Beach section. The complaint was directed mainly against noise created by frequent starting of cars, loud talking and the playing of a piano in the still hours of the night.

Official cognizance was taken of the chain fence erected by the owners of Hotel Laguna on the beach fronting their property, with an apparent design of reserving that particular part of the beach for the use of hotel guests. The city attorney was directed to ascertain the cost of a title search and bring in a report at the next meeting.

A request of the local school board to be permitted to use wood shingles instead of asbestos for the roofing of the new elementary school now under construction was referred to the city attorney, the city engineer and the city building inspector for report and recommendations.

Mayor Frank B. Champion, chairman of a committee on proposed purchase of the chamber of commerce property located on Park avenue, reported his committee would have another conference with the officials of the Citizens' bank.

Councilman Thomas Cummings voiced a belief that compliance with a request of the state highway department for parallel parking along Coast boulevard throughout the entire length of the city, including the downtown business section, would meet with considerable opposition on the part of business interests.

6-6 System Before L. B. School Body

LAGUNA BEACH, May 16.—Reorganization of the city schools along the line of the 6-6 system, advocated by many educators, under which the elementary school would be made up of the first six grades and the kindergarten, and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, consolidated with the upper grades of the high school, is now under consideration by the board of education, inquiries at the superintendent's office revealed today.

If this move, which has the support of the superintendent, is carried into effect, the reorganized grammar school would be housed in the new elementary school building on Park avenue would be set aside for the joint junior and senior high school, operated as a single unit, it was added.

LOTTERY BILLS PROTESTED AT W. C. T. U. MEET

PLACENTIA, May 16.—A protest of the lottery bills pending in the state legislative session was registered at the Placentia W. C. T. U. meeting Tuesday when the members of the organization voted to send letters to Ted Craig, assemblyman from 77th district, and speaker of the house, and Nelson Edwards, senator from the district, asking them to use their influence against passage of the bills.

The meeting was at the home of Mrs. Sarah Donald, north of Placentia, where three speakers, William Jerome, supervisor, talked on "Taxes," and Mrs. Ralph Davis and Mrs. G. Hicks on "Alcohol Education" and "Old Fallacies and Modern Facts About Beverage Alcohol."

Mrs. Oneta Pike presided. Arrangements were made to place speakers in each church of the Placentia and Yorba Linda Sunday to bring a 10-minute program on the work of the W. C. T. U.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Donald, Alice Key Davis and Mildred Tuffree.

Mrs. Davis brought a report from a book written by Bertha Palmer, designating the effects of use of alcohol on the physical and mental activity of the human. She also quoted from Dr. Emil Bogen, and declared that "alcohol is a narcotic poison, its effects are deceptive, it lowers efficiency, impairs judgment, in view of such facts, a policy of moderation in use would be dangerous teaching."

Mrs. G. Hicks discussed "Old Fallacies and Modern Facts About Beverage Alcohol," telling how old fallacies encourage use of alcohol as a stimulant, a food, a medicine, while modern science shows that the increased activity in some cases where alcohol is used as a medicine is due to uncontrolled muscles.

William Jerome asked citizens to divide up the tax dollar and find if it is being spent properly. He said taxation should not be placed in fundamental law form, but should be flexible, and adjusted to fit changing situations.

Deuel forecast an era of planes with eight or 10 motors in the near future with a passenger capacity of 100. The plane of the future, he said, will have a cruising speed of around 300 miles an hour. He saw no future for dirigibles, except as freight carriers in times of peace.

Horace Ensign, principal of the Newport harbor elementary school, also spoke, outlining the work of harbor students, and touching on an exhibit of art work by second grade students, which will be on display at the Legion hall for the remainder of this month.

BREA COUNCIL ARRANGES FOR CLEAN-UP WEEK

BREA, May 16.—Brea city councilmen held a brief session Wednesday night with Mayor L. A. Hogue presiding and Councilmen Frank Schweitzer and J. D. Wake-man absent. Clean-up week was declared from May 23 to June 1. The notice will be published and property owners given a 10-day grace period, after which the city will do the work and charge it against the property.

Some discussion was held on the matter of establishment of a water rate for acreage since applications for such consideration have been received from small farm owners adjacent to Brea. With the addition of the city's new water well, the councilmen believe that the water supply is sufficient and that a considerable income can be derived from this source. Fred Boxall, water superintendent, was instructed to ascertain conditions and rates in similar set-ups about the county.

A communication from the city of Burbank, asking for financial assistance in defending two suits brought against the city for settlement of bonds of the 1915 issue, was read by City Attorney Elmer Gay. The councilmen agreed to co-operate in every manner except that of a cash contribution. This, they cited, was done in the Lakeport test case and they felt that was all they could afford to do.

ROBERT NOBLE SCHEDULED FOR FORUM ADDRESS

Arguments for and against Fascism, with Robert Noble, speaker of the evening to be asked many questions, are expected to enliven the question period Friday evening at the American Open Forum, Eighth and Bush streets, in the Unitarian church.

"Noble, who was at one time connected with the Utopian society, is accused by local members of the society of having gained influence which he is using to build up a personal following," announcement of the meeting says. "They assert that he is making it possible for the meeting to be turned into Fascism. Others claim that he is a direct representative in Southern California of Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana."

"The Los Angeles man will speak on economic and social affairs under the auspices of the Forum, which has brought exponents of various religious, social and economic philosophies to this city. He has many enthusiastic adherents in this city who consider that he is doing good work in arousing the public to social and economic abuses."

This is Noble's first appearance in Santa Ana. The hour for opening the Forum is 7:30. Following the scheduled talk, the speaker is expected to answer questions which may be asked by members of the audience.

No admission is charged.

Says Only Few Filipinos Want Own Government

Cruise, federal engineer in charge of the government dredging operations now going on in Newport bay, was the speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the local Lions club, telling of his observations gleaned from two visits that he had made to the Philippine islands in recent year.

Contrary to general belief, the people of the islands do not want their independence, he said. Only ten per cent of the population is urging that they be given their own form of government, Captain Cruise declared. The speaker was introduced by Henry Abrams.

Announcement was made that the next week's meeting will be in the form of an open forum, each member to be given an opportunity to suggest programs for the good of the organization. It was announced that the local Boy Scouts will be in charge of the flag day program for June 14.

Miss Frances Bergey, president of the Girls' league, gave the welcome to the mothers. Mrs. Effie Kopple, newly elected president of the high school P.-T. A., responded on behalf of the mothers. The Girls' sextet sang "In My Garden." Mrs. Ed Hensley and daughter, Miss Ella Mae Hensley, of Midway City, played a trumpet duet. "Pals," accompanied at the piano by Miss Bergey, presented a group of songs and interpretative dances. Miss Brita Mae Gleaves gave a reading, "I'm Going to Sneezee." A one-act play, under the direction of Miss Princess Booth, was given by Miss Mary Eastwood and Woodrow Frost.

The patio was decorated by Japanese girls, who served refreshments of tea. Miss Ruth Kikuchi was chairman of the committee of Japanese girls, the Misses Yuki Hiroshi, Ruth Nagamatsu, Kujoko Tatsukawa, Yemiko Tatsukawa, Kazuko Furuta, Marion Tahamachi, Aiko Sadakane, and Satsuyo Sadakane.

HOLLYWOOD HAPPENINGS

By DAN THOMAS, Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 16.—Hollywood is getting electrically minded. Oh, not technically. Far from that. The movie folks' minds are running to miniature electric trains.

Joan Blondell and George Barnes have one for their infant son. But they're the ones who play with it. It's a very elaborate train, too, consisting of a four-foot engine, baggage car, diner, and four pullmans. And the tracks run all over their house.

Director Lloyd Bacon has an even more elaborate system of tracks and two trains. He calls it the San Fernando railroad. Three Hollywood shops are making a specialty of these trains, which cost from $200 to $3700.

Seedy Bouquet
When Rosita Moreno and Mel Schuer eloped to Yuma recently, they were unable to find a floral shop in town that was open.

So Rosita's mother stopped in a tiny general store and bought her a package of flower seeds as a "gag." Rosita held the package, with all the care she would have given a bouquet, clear thought the ceremony.

Slim Picking
Anita Louise has decided that being a waitress wouldn't suit her at all. The other day she made her debut as a waitress at the Assistance League cafe—where all the waitresses are actresses or wives of film notables and the proceeds are given to charity.

Tom Brown, Bob Aaranson, Jimmy Eagles, and David Breen, all young actors, were her customers. After they departed, Anita found that they had left a 4-cent tip.

The one RIGHT WAY to sell citrus

From years of experience the Exchange has found that the "one right way" to sell its gigantic citrus crops is to use every practical way.

DURING its forty-two years the Exchange has had the opportunity to test or observe the operation of many methods of fruit-selling. The Exchange now employs those which have proved most productive for its members—for that is the measuring-stick by which any Exchange activity is judged.

The Exchange sells fruit f.o.b., and delivered at private sale and at auction. Each method is valuable in its place; but no one alone is adequate for all the domestic and foreign markets in which Sunkist is sold.

Exchange growers have their own salesmen in 57 markets. From 46 of these sales offices fruit is sold to over 1350 carload buyers in over 700 cities and towns on an f.o.b. or delivered basis, whichever yields the best return to growers.

Auction selling has proved best in 11 big distributing centers. The auction concentrates buying power, enables demand to express itself quickly and fully on large shipments of fruit. The intense competition between various types of buyers is stimulating to sales and prices.

It would be pleasant to sell everything "cash California." But you cannot sell 75,000 cars of oranges, lemons and grapefruit by sitting back and saying, "Here they are, come and buy them."

The Exchange policy is to use each method in its place, as it proves best able to serve Exchange growers.

You remember how in Egypt, back in the days of the Pharaohs, they stored up grain during the seven good years so as to be ready for the seven lean years to come...

Lean years may come... and fat
years may go...

That's why we have close to a hundred million dollars worth of tobacco packed away in 4½ miles of warehouses to grow mild and naturally sweet.

To make sure that Chesterfields will be uniform in taste and mildness, we have in storage mild, ripe tobaccos from the crops of four years—1931-'32-'33 and '34.

Mild Ripe Tobacco...

Aged 2 years or more...

—the farmer who grows the tobacco...

—the warehouseman who sells it at auction to the highest bidder...

—every man who knows about leaf tobacco—will tell you that it takes mild, ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette; and this is the kind we buy for CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes.

All of the tobaccos used in CHESTERFIELD Cigarettes are properly aged to make them milder and sweeter.

Influx Of Outside Workers Prevented By SERA Move

WORKERS SAVE THEIR JOBS BY FILLING THEM

Swift action on the part of the Orange county SERA committee, backed by the support of the board of supervisors and the Farm Bureau, in releasing about 900 agricultural workers from SERA relief rolls so they could go into private work in agriculture not only has had the effect of preventing injury to the sugar beet crop from neglect, but has resulted in protection to the workers themselves in saving their jobs in the fields, it was learned today.

The protection which the workers have secured by going back to work in private agriculture is a protection against an influx of Filipino labor from the north and of Mexican agriculture workers from outside of Orange county. The result is that the agricultural workers here are protecting their jobs by working at them.

Charles Fallert, head of the National Re-employment Service here, revealed today that an influx of foreign labor was narrowly averted by the return of agricultural workers to their jobs as was required in the drastic action taken by SERA to relieve the worries of the farmers by giving them men to work their crops.

Fallert told of one rancher in Orange county—a sugar beet grower—who already had imported 50 Filipino laborers to thin his beets when he could find no local laborers to go on the job. This action probably would have been taken by many ranchers before they would have allowed their crops to go to ruin because of not being tended.

Labor contractors had made contacts in Orange county with ranchers with the view of bringing hundreds of Filipino workers into the county to work in the fields. Another rancher, Fallert said, who is a big celery grower, brought in 75 Mexicans from Venice to work in the field.

If the agricultural workers who were on SERA relief had stayed on relief and not gone into private farm work there is little doubt but what their jobs would have been taken by workers from outside Orange county, in the opinion of Fallert. Then a tremendous problem would have to be met in case SERA activities stopped, as was the case under CWA, Fallert pointed out.

Dog Owners Here Warned On Rabies

With an epidemic of rabies affecting a large area of Los Angeles county for the past few weeks, Orange county dog owners were being warned today to use extra precautions in the care of their pets to prevent spread of the disease into this territory.

At the same time, it was learned that police officers of Orange county could have been advised to have all dogs brought from Los Angeles county points during the vacation season kept on leash as a precautionary measure.

At one time recently, approximately 100 persons were being treated at the Los Angeles General hospital for dog bites, and several districts, including Belvedere Gardens, Pasadena, and other cities are under quarantine regulations, with all dogs away from their home premises subject to being exterminated, according to reports.

A vicious dog, thought to have been affected with rabies, was recently killed at Huntington Beach by H. D. Pickering, humane officer for the county and for the city of Santa Ana, but laboratory examination showed no such disease.

Dog licenses in Santa Ana will become due on June 1. Pickering announced today, and all dogs in the city are subject to the license tax of $1 per year, Pickering said. Identification of these animals through their license tags is one of the very effective means of rabies control, Pickering said. Approximately 1000 dog tags are issued each year in Santa Ana.

Social Held By Classes In Brea

BREA, May 16.—At a business meeting of the S. O. S. class and a combined social meeting of that class and the Bible Searchers, held in the annex of the Christian church this week, "sunshine pals" for the past several months were revealed. Miss Frank Stipp, Miss Agnes Tozer and Miss Ethel Eastham were in charge.

Games were played later with prizes going to Mrs. Stipp and Mrs. Walter Bergman. A large birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Paul Olmstead, was served, honoring those whose birthday anniversaries are in May and June. Mrs. Ray Closson, chairman of the refreshments committee, was assisted by Mrs. Marie Tippin, Mrs. Blanche Sutliff and Mrs. Emelia Lewis.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS TO BE SELECTED

Final elections of student body officers at the Santa Ana High school will be held this Friday because only two candidates were elected at yesterday's primaries. Clyde Files was elected commissioner of finance in a close race, defeating Jerry Roland, and Freddie Pimental won the position of yell-leader over Delbert Beard.

Bob Wilde, prominent athlete on the local campus, took the lead in a field of four candidates for president with a total of 376 votes against 296 for his nearest opponent, Don Kennedy. Wilde will run against Kennedy in the finals Friday.

The other offices also were closely contested because of the number of candidates in the race. Since majorities were not won in any of the other positions, the candidates simmered down to two candidates for each position, with the exception of the girls' and boys' self-government positions where it was necessary to pick four boys and four girls respectively.

For the vice presidency Merle Morris and Bill Flood will be voted on. Both Morris and Flood are well known basketball players and school club members. Flood is the chairman of the Student Order committee.

Ruth Randson and Virginia Wilson will run for secretary, while Rob Relf and Erwin Youel will run for commissioner of athletics. For commissioner of forensics Audrey Granas and Bill Keaton will run, and Geraldine Gilbert and Jerry Hawkins will compete for commissioner of publications.

Bill Milligan, William Semmacher, Bob Speed, and Paul Wolven will run for the boys' self-government, with Carolyn Davis, Mary Henderson, Billie Johnson, and Jean Munro candidates for the girls' self-government.

According to Lynn H. Crawford, principal-elect, this group of student body candidates is one that has the highest citizenship rating that any candidates have had in years.

NAME YORBA LINDA SCHOOL TEACHERS

YORBA LINDA, May 14.—Contracts were given to teachers of the Yorba Linda school following a meeting of the board, at the school this week.

Contracts were tendered Mrs. Mabel Paine, principal; John M. Christopher, Whittier, a new teacher, replacing Wood Glover as seventh grade and woodshop teacher; Jean Kinsman, fifth and sixth grade; Ellen Sells, Elizabeth Worsley, Clara E. Spelman and Lois Hall.

Glover and Mrs. O'Neill Dixon, who is ill, resigned. Glover goes to Whittier. Jean Kinsman takes her place. Mrs. Francis Addy resigned as a music teacher and Miss Spelman will be in charge of music.

Students At Fullerton Build Boats

Fullerton has a thriving ship-building industry, and activities aren't confined entirely to miniatures, either, though the Northern Orange county municipality is some 20 miles from blue waters of the Pacific.

Under the direction of R. A. Marsden, head of the manual arts department, the Fullerton Union high school shops have turned out boats of every type and description from racing sloops to kayaks.

Even some of the marine hardware has been made in the school shops or in local foundries. This shows the ingenuity of the Fullerton boat-builders. The boat-building activity has not been confined to the high school and junior college youngsters alone. Night classes have been organized and many an outboard has been designed, built and painted after working hours in the school shops.

Since the depression the trend in boat-building has been toward the smaller, lighter craft, it was last year that the kayak design appealed to the more nautically-minded youngsters. As a result 25 of these boats of both Eskimo and Danish design were built.

Before the kayaks, outboards of every type and description were built. Put-puts to go put-putting in around Newport and Balboa to honest to goodness put-put racers.

Perhaps the sailing sloops of the star class turned out by students in the Fullerton high school shops in 1933 were the most noteworthy accomplishments, though a 32-foot cabin cruiser was also built in the school shops.

The sea worthiness of the Star-class sloop proved to be a high compliment to the inland ship-building ability for the craft, skippered by an inexperienced sailor took a second place on its first trial. Since then it has been a consistent winner.

Marsden has a well-defined plan for boat building. Each phase of construction is taken up step by step in order that the finished product might compete with those of organized commercial plants.

After the prospective builder has selected his plans and chosen the design of the craft he wishes to build, the ship is "laid down" in full size in the drafting room. From these drawings the ribs, keel and other important details of construction are easily transferred to wood.

School Trustees Cut Brea Staff

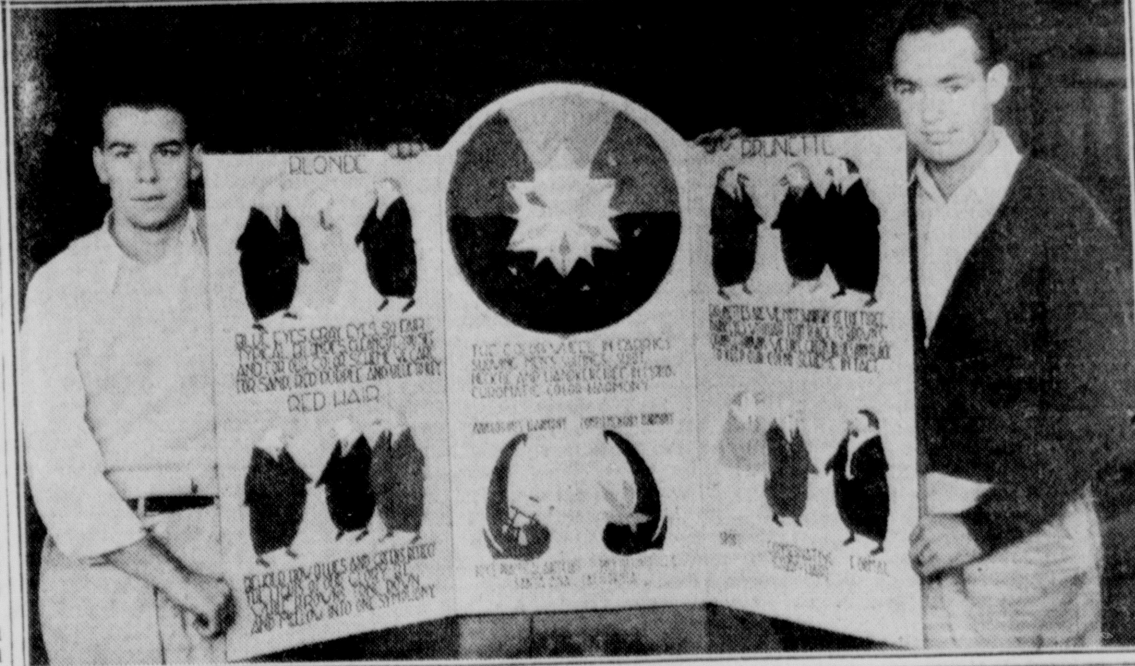

BREA, May 16.—Only slight changes were made in the faculties of Brea grammar schools by the elementary board this week. Mrs. Bruce Magee of Long Beach, as Miss Willa Mae Adams, art teacher, took a leave of absence two years ago and taught for a year in Panama. The leave of absence was renewed this year.

The contract of Miss Agnes Durbin was not renewed, following a general line of retrenchment in finances. Her work in the fifth grade will be absorbed by others of the faculty.

Principal Vincent Jastar, who has been having an enforced vacation from school duties because of having been exposed during the Eastern vacation to smallpox, returned to work this week.

DESIGN FABRIC COLOR CHART

Practical points about men's wear color combinations are learned by young men students of the Practical Arts class of the Santa Ana high school, according to this large poster which they have worked out in fabrics and which is planned to be shown at the San Diego Exposition. The full range of color combinations, with harmonizing shirts, ties and handkerchiefs is shown in the center panel, with wing panels depicting the proper colors for blondes, brunettes, and redheads. Exhibit poster is being held by Kenneth Payne, left, and Allen Fitelson, right, members of the class which is taught by Miss Myrtle Stark.

ANNULMENT OF 2 MARRIAGES ASKED

Annulment of two marriages was sought today in superior court, as Mrs. May Leona Hanson alleged that her son, E. Field Hanson, 26, lacked parental consent when he eloped to Yuma last September 15, while Mrs. Jessie Saner, former Oceanside waitress, charged her husband, J. F. Saner, of Newport Beach, with fraud.

Mrs. Hanson sued her son and his bride, Aileen Hanson, to annul the Yuma wedding.

Mrs. Saner claimed that her husband secretly intended never to live with her, or provide a home, as he had promised when they married at Encinitas March 6, this year.

She was then employed in an Oceanside cafe, and her employer asked her to remain at work for a few weeks, until he could replace her, she stated. Saner agreed to this arrangement, and told her he would make a home for her at Newport Beach as soon as she could join him, Mrs. Saner asserted.

About April 1, she stated, she was relieved of her employment and immediately went to Newport Beach. But her husband told her he had not intended to live with her, she charged.

Music by Former Anaheim Resident On NBC Network

Aaron Gonzalez, former resident of Anaheim and featured pianist over KREG some two years ago, is now playing at the Trocadero cafe, smart Hollywood restaurant, with a tango-rumba orchestra, according to word received today by The Register.

The musician has had five of his compositions accepted for publication by leading music houses. It is learned. These are: "Dime," "Porque No Comprendes," "Linda," "Tengo Colores" and "Besame."

Other of his compositions are receiving attention of famous orchestras heard over radio networks, including that of Henry Bussee which is scheduled to introduce Gonzalez's fox-trot ballad, "Loveliness" in the near future.

Don Mario introduced "Nena," another number by the former Anaheim man, for which Mario wrote the lyrics, over the NBC network on May 5.

PROCLAIM WEEK FOR INSURANCE IN SANTA ANA

This is life insurance week throughout the state of California, according to proclamation of Governor Frank P. Merriam, and is being observed locally with an educational campaign pointing out the many benefits of life insurance.

Attention of the public to this campaign, and to Merriam's proclamation recently issued, was called today by Mayor Fred C. Rowland, as a means of obtaining the security which everyone wants.

"Life is so complex that insecurity easily provokes the emotions of fear, and fear quickly deadens initiative," reads the governor's public statement. "Once the spirit of the people becomes stifled prosperity ceases. Dislocation of the natural order of affairs takes place and social and economic life becomes stagnant."

"Financial security as guaranteed by the substantial life insurance companies of our State and Nation with an historical background of nearly one hundred years of successful operation, creates confidence, stimulates effort and promotes the general welfare of frugal people. The individual thus insured develops poise of personality and the family thus protected attains a character of social dignity."

"But life insurance is more than protection; it is sound investment. The annuity policy carried while the average income is sufficient to pay the annual premium provides a monthly stipend in old age that guarantees mental satisfaction and happiness."

Hostess Trio Presides At Luncheon For Household Section

Mrs. Frank F. Mead, Mrs. Good Adams and Mrs. P. B. Gillespie presided Tuesday at an enjoyable luncheon for members of the Household Section which met in the clubhouse for the noon event.

Unusually lovely flowers graced the tables where places were indicated for section members and the two honor guests, Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Ebelle president, and Mrs. Frank H. Paterson, club curator.

Repeating to the lounge for the afternoon program, members heard with interest a spirited account of her voyage to Honolulu, given by their leader, Mrs. D. D. Wainick. Many fine photographs taken on the trip and in the islands, augmented the talk. Other matters introduced before the bridge contest included the accepting of two new members, Mrs. S. A. Jones and Mrs. O. H. Umberham, and the award of the surprise package (a routine section feature) to Mrs. Herbert Krahling.

Mrs. C. B. Hill and Miss Clara Richards scored in the subsequent bridge games and were rewarded with prizes.

Present were Mesdames D. D. Wainick, D. E. Liggett, B. J. McReynolds, Carl Klatt, George Raymond, Herbert Krahling, C. B. Hill, Anna Bowman, Claude C. Ream, D. A. Harwood, M. D. Borgmeyer, H. C. Kirk, Ellis Diehl, L. Allen, Howard Stone, S. A. Jones, O. H. Umberham and Miss Clara Richards, members, and Mrs. C. V. Davis and Mrs. Frank Paterson, honor guests.

Capistrano Institute Plans Dinner Dance

Capistrano Y. L. I. members are completing arrangements for a public dinner dance to be held Saturday evening in Veterans' hall. It was announced today by Mrs. A. L. Steward, general chairman of the event.

Dinner will be served continuously from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, with dancing to continue until midnight. Music will be furnished by Fred Robinson's Southern Californians. There will be feature dances. Proceeds will be used for the organization's social welfare work.

Committees aiding Mrs. Steward in plans for the event are Mrs. Katherine Maag, decorations; Miss Mary Louise Dierker, posters; Mrs. Walter Markel, tickets; Mrs. U. J. Engelmann, prizes.

Forty members and guests of the Institute took part in a recent breakfast at which mothers were guests of honor. The affair was held at Dixie Castle on the 101 Highway. Mrs. Harold Brown was general chairman of arrangements. Corsage bouquets were presented to guests, who included Mrs. Ashby Turner, president of Orange County Council of Catholic Women.

Informal Summer Plans Are Suggested For Quill Pen Club

Plans for continuing Quill Pen club activities in a modified form during summer months were considered Tuesday night when the club met with Mrs. Marah Adams, 415 South Birch street.

Such plans, it was believed, would maintain the cohesion of the club and yet offer no interference to vacation arrangements of individual members.

Among matters under discussion none offered more interest than the article by Mrs. S. B. Marshall appearing in the current issue of the magazine "Leisure." The article, "Re-Creation Project," had been one of Mrs. Marshall's contributions to a club program before she submitted it to the magazine which accepted it.

Mrs. Blanche Brown read the only programmed story, "Bird of Passage." This was a romance which was subjected to the searching criticism which the club feels is one of its most valuable features.

On Tuesday night, May 28, Quill Pen will be entertained by Mrs. R. Wainick, 414 Harwood Place. Members have been asked to give special attention to one-act plays for the program.

Mrs. Adams served cookies, salted nuts and coffee supplemented by a delicious devilish cake which Mrs. N. E. Wells had brought. Assistance in serving was lent by Miss Verna Wells, Mrs. Winchester and Mrs. J. U. Viaw.

Two guests were introduced, Miss Mildred Watkins of Orange, and Miss Grace Breitenstein of Venice, house guest of Mrs. Marshall. Members present were Mrs. Adams, hostess, Miss Verna Wells, Mesdames S. B. Marshall, N. E. Wells, Roy H. Winchester, J. U. Viaw, Maude Goff, Frank W. Harry M. Smith, Blanche Brown, Marshall Harolds and Emmett Elliott.

2283 Three Adams

Three Hostesses Join In Complimenting Bride-Elect

Mrs. Charles F. Campbell, Mrs. E. J. Kotlar and Miss Betty Burnham formed a hostess trio entertaining last night at 930 Lacy street in compliment to Miss Billie Brucke, fiancée of George Wheeler of Orange.

Early in the evening an alarm clock sounded a signal to the bride-elect to go in search of shower gifts brought by the guests. Packages had been assembled in a room where a shower of tiny Japanese umbrellas had been arranged above a lace-spread table decked with Cecil Brunner rosebuds.

Serving as a center-piece was an elaborately decorated bride and bridegroom cake which later in the evening was cut by the honoree.

Bridal gifts for Miss Brucke included a set of dishes from her three hostesses.

Hand-designed parchment tablets were distributed for bridge play. Mrs. Jessie Hudson, Miss Barbara Berger and Mrs. William Fitcher, high scorers at each of three tables, were rewarded with pots of modernistic flowers which centered tables at the refreshment hour.

An identical guest prize went to Miss Brucke. Each guest received one of the tiny umbrellas which showered the dining room table.

Ice cream and cake designed as May baskets were served at tables spread with pastel-hued organdy covers. Mrs. Stella Penley assisted in serving.

Guests of the three hostesses were Miss Brucke, her mother, Mrs. Clara Brucke and Mesdames Stella Penley, O. K. Forgy, C. H. Powell, James Ward, Jessie Hudson, William Fitcher and the Misses Eunice Hoffman, Mildred Joudon, Barbara Berger, Jean Reinger, Helen Glancy, all of this community; Mrs. F. A. Remington, San Gabriel.

County B. P. W. Leaders Inducted Into Informal Organization

Past presidents of the five Business and Professional Women's clubs in Orange county allied with state and national associations, held an enjoyable affair last night, when during the course of a Mexican supper presented by Mrs. Vincenta Carlton in her home on South Clementine street, Anaheim, they received into their organization, those presidents who have just completed the year in office.

Mrs. Carlton, president of the Anaheim club in 1933 and 1934, and one of those effecting the informal organization of that term's county presidents, made her hospitality a most delightful one by stressing a colorful Mexican theme. The supper menu, appropriate to the occasion, was served on bright decorations including novelties of vivid orange and straw.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Vincenta Carlton, Anaheim past president; Gertrude Botteger, of the Laguna Beach and San Juan Capistrano group; Margaret Elliott, Fullerton; Eula Weaver, Orange; Marie Fowler, Santa Ana, and Hazel Northcross, also of this city, who had served as county president during the same period. With them were the 1934-1935 officers, now admitted to the group, Mesdames Rose Walker, Santa Ana; Mabel Neill, Fullerton; Alice O. Orange; Betty Joyce Foster, Laguna Beach, and two guests, Mrs. Mabel Hathaway and Miss Ruth Williams, Anaheim. Mrs. Botteger, already a member of the organization, is doubly so now in her capacity as president of the Orange county federation, her year now reaching its conclusion.

Initiates were called upon to provide the after-supper entertainment which they did by presenting a program entirely Hawaiian. All donned the correct island costumes of grass skirts, leis, etc., and with their ukuleles and other native instruments, presented amusing songs and dances.

The group plans to hold meetings each month, thus furthering interests of the entire county federation. It is hoped that those who have served the different clubs in earlier years, will effect a similar Past Presidents' organization.

Occidental Senior Will Present Recital

It is with much interest that Santa Ana friends who have watched the progress in music of Duncan Harnois, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harnois, 414 East Walnut street, have received announcements of the young man's senior recital to be an event of Monday night, May 20 in the Recital hall of Occidental college.

In the present semester of his senior year, Duncan Harnois has had the advantage of study under Theodore Kosloff, and his friends feel that his technique and powers undoubtedly will be advanced by this instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Harnois, Miss Edith Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sullivan and Creston Harnois will attend the recital which will begin at 8 o'clock and there are other Santa Ana friends of the gifted young musician who also expect to be present. Mrs. Sullivan was Miss Charlotte Harnois prior to her marriage of March 1.

mother and grandmother. Mrs. Carrie P. Duryea of Lancaster, who today was to undergo a major operation at Mission hospital, Los Angeles. Mrs. Duryea has many friends in this city where she lived for a number of years before taking up residence in Lancaster.

Mrs. Felix Aubuchon, 614 East Third street, left today for an extended visit with relatives in Pittsburgh, Penna., and will rejoin Mrs. Taylor in Kansas City in July. They will return together by the northern route and come through San Francisco.

FUN FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

THE TYNMIES
STORY BY MAL COCHRAN—ILLUSTRATED BY KING

"Oh, hurry with those drawings, please!" You're being slow, I'll be to leave," said Duncy to the ink man. "You're three gnomes look quite all right."

"Perhaps they'll jump right out to play, and that will bring a happy day. Gee, night is coming on. I'd like some fun while it's still light."

The ink man smiled and said, "Don't fret. Please be real patient, while I get all of the drawings finished. You don't want the gnomes half done."

"You see, I really want to draw the strangest men you ever saw. If I can do them as I wish, I know 'twill be more fun."

Out popped the gnomes. They stretched a bit, and one said, "Gee, I'm feeling fit." Another eyed the Tynmies, and exclaimed, "Say, this is fine!"

They quickly lined up, side by side and tipped their hats. Wee Goldy cried, "Oh, I am going to like you, and I hope you like me, too."

"You'll get your hope," one gnome cried out. "Of that there isn't any doubt. It will not take us long to think of dandy things to do."

(Copyright, 1935, NEA Service, Inc.)
(The ink man makes another drawing in the next story.)

"New, as to nighttime; that's all right. The moon will furnish us with light. Even though the sun is missing, we are going to have a lark."

"The moon is rising now, my lad, and even it looks bright and glad. You'll shortly find its real broad smile will chase away the dark."

"He's right," said Scouty. "This is great. It's bright, so we can stay up late." Then everything was quiet, as the ink man worked away.

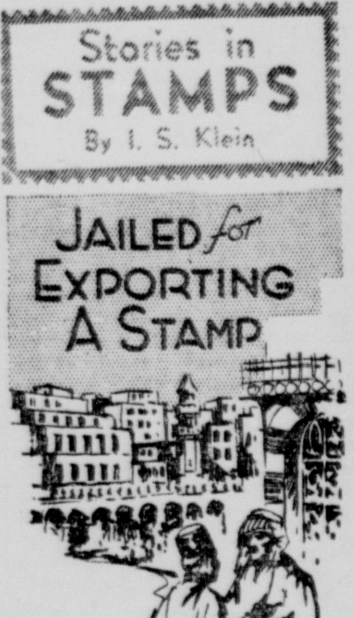

He shortly shouted, "Well, I'm through. How do the three men look to you? I'll call them from the paper, and then they'll be set to play."

The Tynmies heard him cry, "Heigh ho! Come forth, you gnomes, that you may know the band of happy Tynmies. They're real good friends of mine."

JAILED for EXPORTING A STAMP

FEW countries value their postage to the extent of banning the export of certain stamps under penalty of imprisonment. But Yemen, the strip of land lying alongside the Red Sea in Arabia, has such postage and such a law, so that any of the stamps provided for domestic use only are valued highly among collectors.

For foreign postage there are other stamps, such as that shown here, and these have come over unused and at low prices. But latest reports indicate that even these stamps no longer may be sent out of Yemen unused, for the Imam, Yahyi Mohammed Hamid ed-Din, has so ruled.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS—By JOHN HIX

For further good address the author, including a stamped envelope for reply. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Most famous of all cedars are the Cedars of Lebanon. In the time of Solomon the number of these trees must have been tremendous for it is recorded that 80,000 hewers were employed to cut wood for his temple. Not only Solomon but others of his period and later made such serious inroads in the great groves that it was feared the trees would disappear altogether. Hadrian, the Roman Emperor, took steps to rescue the cedars in 125 A. D. but even though his warnings were posted high and far the destruction continued. Today there are to be found only a few scattered groves, the largest containing no more than about 400 trees.

In the heat of summer buffaloes shed their hairy coats to such an extent that parts of their bodies become quite bare and exposed to the stings of mosquitoes and other insects. In self defense the huge animals wallowed in the shallow puddles of mud in an effort to cover the exposed parts. In the absence of mud puddles they resorted to scratching themselves against the nearest suitable object. Rocks can today be seen that were worn smooth by the animals and when telegraph poles were set up to carry lines across the plains the buffaloes lost no time in making ready use of them. The destruction became so terrific that spikes were driven into the poles to protect them. This, however, though it did give some protection to the poles, seemed on the other hand to give added pleasure to the buffaloes.

HEDGES AGAINST INFLATION

INFLATION, IS IT COMING?

What a great many people would like to know is whether or not inflation is going to come and what the effect of it is going to be. The more practical ones are asking: "How can I make some easy money out of it?" and the wishful ones are already dreaming of a life of ease.

This country is already embarked on the sea of inflation. The huge deficiency bonds, work relief bonds, and what have you, are as truly inflationary as the bonds sold during the World war.

They are inflationary in the sense that they provide for a larger amount of banking credit and Federal Reserve money.

But prices have not gone up as rapidly as during the World war and this is the fact that disturbs the theorists as well as the practical speculator and investor who is looking for an increase in value somewhat in proportion to the increase in government credit.

Every day new lessons are being learned in the field of financial economics. It was thought that by cutting the gold content of the dollar to 60 per cent of its former value that prices would, in a period of a few years, advance in like proportion. But the wish and the hope that prices could be restored to the 1926 level by this rather simple procedure is dying in the minds of the men who had faith in it.

Next the government proceeded to buy silver on the theory that by making silver money more valuable China, India, and Mexico would buy larger quantities of goods from us. What it really did was to create a depression in China because money, on becoming high in value, forced the price of all other commodities to a lower level. And as a result China and the other silver nations are finding it more difficult to buy because of money scarcity in their own country.

The fact that the American dollar was cheapened to encourage other nations to buy more goods resulted only in their erecting higher tariff walls against us.

With these lessons in the practical working of present day economics newly learned, considerable attention is being given to the argument that the payment of the soldiers bonus in currency will not necessarily result in a wild rise in prices. There might be a stock market flurry, such as there was in 1933, but a permanent rise in values can only be maintained by increased production and the profitable operation of business. So much equipment is idle that profits will remain small owing to the abundant facilities of production, and the higher taxes that will be necessary in an effort to balance the budget.

The reckless purchase of what the investors speak of as the "cats and dogs," or small equities might therefore prove to be a good gamble if unloaded at the right time on the gullible who have money, but at the same time are likely to prove a bad investment if held in the hopes that they will earn a profit for their owner.

The best advice is to get out of debt and carefully husband the property already owned so that it can withstand any new economic winds or tornadoes that it might encounter.

ORANGE COUNTY FISH PRESERVE

Commercial fishing interests are doing all in their power to prevent the establishment of an ocean game fish preserve along the Orange County coast line. The bill now before the state assembly would prohibit seine or net fishing for a distance of three miles from shore along the Orange county coast line.

If this measure were passed, it would make our coast line the finest game fishing preserve to be found anywhere. With the changing seasons, millions of fish from the warmer Southern waters travel North and hundreds of tons are taken by commercial fisheries each year.

Most of the commercial fishing, however, is done South of the county coast line and in the waters off shore from Mexico. No serious hardship would therefore be wrought on the fishing industry, as such, if this measure became a law. Commercial fishing interests would only be deprived of a small part of their commercial catch and perhaps none at all, but they would be required to go farther south all the year 'round than they are now accustomed to do.

The small commercial fishing boats plying their trade out of Newport Beach harbor are not affected by this measure which is aimed at the larger fishing boats which use the purse seine and the lamp net by which they are able to gather in an entire school of fish at one haul.

The people of Orange County can, through this legislative enactment, develop one of the finest game fishing preserves for hook and line fishermen to be found anywhere.

This fishing preserve is one of the most attractive potential assets of this county. Unquestionably, if commercial fishing were forbidden it would at certain seasons of the year literally swarm with fish and attract thousands of people to our coast line.

Let this city and county give every possible aid to the coast communities in order that this bill might become a law.

THE "LION OF THE TRIBE OF JUDAH" HAS HIS "DANDER" UP

Ras Tafari, Emperor of Ethiopia, "Conquering Lion of Judah," has announced to the world in general, and to the League of Nations and Il Duce Mussolini of Italy in particular, that he will stand no more funny business from Italy's dictator; that he defies all his fuming threats, and that he will call out his last soldier, if necessary, to keep the Italian enemy out of his land.

The Lion has roared. He has roared louder than the shouting Duce. Now we shall see what will happen. Now that the dusky emperor has flung his defiance to Mussolini, we expect the Italian dictator may become a bit more cautious.

Those Abyssinian tribesmen are great fighters. It is a long walk through desolate and mountainous country to reach the Abyssinian capital.

An Italian expedition in that country will be costly; and we are moved to think that Mussolini will hesitate some before he takes the plunge. England has some memories of expeditions into the Sudan, and France and Spain have had some bitter experiences in Morocco and Tunis and Algeria.

The Abyssinian emperor wants peace, but he will not seek it on bended knees. In the words of an old music hall song, at the time when Lord Beaconsfield, prime minister of England, sent a fleet to Turkish waters to fight the Russians, Ras Tafari and his tribesmen may be singing:

"We don't want to fight, but by jingo if we do,
We've got the ships, we've got the men,
We've got the money too."

Reports have come out from Abyssinia that munitions of the most modern type have recently been shipped into the country. Mussolini, beware!

"HITCHING" A RIDE

A brand new joy and thrill is just ahead for the "kids" of the future generations. Day before yesterday three gliders hooked on to an airplane, and, with the consent of the pilot, were towed from Miami, Florida, to Havana, Cuba, a distance of 300 miles. All landed safely in the midst of an enthusiastic crowd of 50,000 people on hand to welcome them.

Whether this stunt is the forerunner of the air train of the future or just a new sport no one can predict. But it is easy to imagine, in the not distant future, a transcontinental plane might tow a number of gliders and release them as it proceeds over the cities along its route, while the towing plane flies on a non-stop schedule from coast to coast.

It has often been said that the human race can accomplish what it can imagine and the progress of inventions during the life span of those now in middle age entirely justifies this optimistic observation.

Senator Borah On The Bonus

Senator Borah, who voted for the Patman bill, discussed it as follows:

There was only one matter of controversy before the Senate on the bonus question and that was how the payment is to be made.

The administration bill, the Vinson bill and the Patman bill, all proceeded upon the theory that the payment was to be made and to be made in the immediate future.

The controversy was whether we would issue more tax-exempt interest-bearing bonds or whether we would issue Treasury notes of the government, backed, as Governor Eccles says, in the same way as the bonds would be.

If I recall correctly, when Great Britain funded her international debt in 1932 and 1933 she exchanged new bonds for old bonds, except as to a considerable amount of the bonds for which the government paid cash. In other words, she took up a large portion of her indebtedness with currency, and a much larger amount than the $2,000,000,000 amount of indebtedness which we are proposing to take up with currency. Sir Reginald McKenna, one of the great bankers of the world, speaking of this transaction, said:

"The government policy of cheap and abundant money, primarily embarked upon for the special object of converting national debts to lower interest rates, has been in force consistently for nearly two years. The success of the policy in maintaining the general advantage of prices at a level which renders production profitable is today beyond question."

I think we can stand with great advantage a limited policy of 'cheap and abundant money' in view of the fact that we already have an overabundant amount of interest-bearing bonds.

1835 Economic Cannibalism

The elder James Gordon Bennett, pondering on the state of the Union in the first number of his Morning Herald, on May 6, 1835, noted a condition of things that startlingly suggests Mr. Norman Thomas or a Washington official "leftist" in 1935. The new Herald observed 100 years ago that New York State was not content with 566 miles of canal and 109 miles of railway. "We have projected 400 miles of canals and incorporated railroads to an amount of $34,000,000, both of which are principally intended for speculation and taking in the flats." An 1835 "flat" corresponds to a 1935 "easy-mark" or "come-on."

As for the banking situation in 1835, the new Herald finds that New York State with eighty-nine banks has so far had to be content with "only eight broken banks, with a capital of three millions, to cheat the mechanics; but in time we may break hereafter a score or two and thus far outstrip Pennsylvania, Ohio or Kentucky in the art of ruffling the poor."

Soon came the panic of 1837, which made this sardonic forecast only too true for the time being. How true or just Mr. Bennett's picture of rugged individualism in 1835 emerges in the perspective of another entire hundred years is not so easy to answer.

Their Divers Parades

After the Big Parade, which terminated on Nov. 11, 1918, we were assured that there would be in the world no more parades. Books were written with titles to that effect. Plays were produced which proved up to the hilt how sick the world must have been of parading. Actually the years since the Armistice have been alive with the tramp of marching men, the grind of armored tanks on their caterpillar treads, and the roar of airplane motors in battle formation.

King George's jubilee parades are rich in old-time pageantry. The bearskin shakos nod gayly in the Spring air and the sun glints on the breastplates of the Guards, but it is all much more picturesque than grim. The truly modern parades are of the Berlin and Rome and Moscow brand. Millions of men in drab colors parade with set faces and clenched hands. They salute and challenge and defy. The tanks rumble and grind and sputter. The planes overhead hum and drone and roar. Everything means business.

It is an immense relief to turn to London's glided coaches and the plumes and the rest of the child's play. It is good to recall that there may be parades which are indeed child's play and holiday making, and not dress rehearsals for hate and war.

LO THE RICH INDIAN

The wealthy Osage Indians of Oklahoma have hired a press agent.

Poor Lo was conversant with wampum. He always was deft with the bow; He took keen delight In a rip-roaring fight In the days of the long, long ago. He managed his movable village For the good of himself and his clan, And he never thought That he possibly ought To employ a publicity man.

Publicity was not his metier; He carefully covered his tracks And was ever alert To ward off and avert Unexpected and hostile attacks. He furtively threaded his footsteps Where forests loomed misty and dim, In quest of a foe, Which, he happened to know, Was forth on the trail to hunt him.

Today I am told that the redman Is timid and gentle and tame; He has made a long start In acquiring the art Of the whoop-hurroo press agent game. Alas for the days of his greatness, Gone the feathers that girdled his brow; He has lost his last chance Of fame and romance— He has hired a press agent now.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

REVOLT WITHOUT A PHILOSOPHY

There is a fundamental difference between revolt and reform.

Down the ages there has been revolt, again and again, without a single questioning of the underlying political, social or economic system in vogue at the time.

It was not until the last quarter of the fourteenth century, along about 1381, that the forces of revolt against oppressive social and economic arrangements took a new turn.

Up to that time when peasants or slaves had revolted against their masters, they did so without questioning the system under which they were living.

They simply revolted against their own hard lot.

They did not question the master-servant division of mankind.

They did not question the rich-poor division of the human breed.

They did not question the oppressor-oppressed division of the race.

Strange as it may seem in this age when our ears are daily bombarded with a veritable medley of new philosophies of society and of enterprise, it seemed never to occur to the peasants and slaves of these early centuries that the existing system was not sacred, unchangeable and destined to remain to the end of time.

They were out for certain definite things. They wanted to escape from conditions that made life hard for them, to get rid of their own sufferings, to wreak vengeance upon those who had oppressed them and themselves to move into the seats of their former masters.

They knew nothing of any "gospel of equality" that runs like a refrain through the radical pronouncements of later times.

But, as I have said, along about 1381 the tune of the revolters changed and the man who signalled the change was a priest, John Ball, who came later to be known as the Mad Priest of Kent.

John Ball's speeches to the English peasantry in the latter part of the fourteenth century sound so much like some speeches now hurled through the air via the radio that it will, I am sure, be interesting to tell the story of the Mad Priest of Kent tomorrow.

The rules demand that a little child pick up his toys and put them in their places when he is through with them. Order and responsibility, two essentials in good character, make this necessary. But there is always a BUT in this matter of child training—one must be careful to see that the little one is not too tired to do the job.

Children of tender age do not know when they are tired. They play on until they are so tired they cry, become cross and bad mannered. They are likely to kick and fling and yell loudly in opposition to the gentlest suggestion that they pick up their toys now and get ready for tea.

When this happens the child is too fatigued to do anything intelligently or cheerfully. He cannot help himself because he has exhausted his energy. It is a useless waste of time and temper to deal with him in terms of discipline at such a crisis. The best you can do is to gather up his toys, replace them, then gather him up, gently wipe his face with warm water and a soft washrag, lay him on his back on his bed and leave him to rest. He may be too tired to settle down to rest.

For a time he may continue to rebel and whine and cry. Keep as still as possible and insist that he remain quiet, alone, until he is in control of himself again, which will be when he is recharged with energy.

After such a spell feed him lightly. Don't attempt to give a tired child a full meal. Give him milk and cereal, or milk with toast, let him rest again, not necessarily sleeping, and then finish feeding him. Let the experience make you wiser for the next time. Budget the child's play time, too, minutely, but within reasonable limits. Stop him before fatigue sets in and remember to give him a warning signal. "In a few minutes now you will have to stop to get ready." Then see that he gets ready.

Do not let him take out all the toys in the closet. Limit him to two sets, or three according to the kind of material he is using.
